Boys Club Job Starts March 23

P.T.A. EXECUTIVE . . . board members are tuning up at Menlo-Atherton High School, in preparation to feed a host of people young and old who are to join in an "all you can eat" pancake feed there tomorrow evening, and to view a faculty-senior class basketball game later. Above Mrs. D. Conrad Jarvis, left, and PTA President Mrs. Elwood Williams, right, join school cafeteria manager Mrs. Irene O'Neill in getting the cafeteria's batter-stirring machine ready for a long evening.

Chan Research May Relocate

The Chan medical research center project near Woodside may pull up stakes and move to another Bay area county if a taxpayers' suit against its development proves too much of a delaying action.

The statement was made this week by Harold C. Frank, Oakland realtor and developer behind the project, who said he is seriously considering sites in Alameda, Contra Costa and Santa Clara Counties in the light of the new turn of events.

Frank said the Chan group is out of pocket some $100,000 to date because of delays in getting the $35 million center underway.

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors last week closed hearings on the center and decided to wait until May 1 before making a final decision on the Chan group's application for five additional buildings.

May 1 is the expected date of completion of the center's first three-story unit, on which approval of additional center construction hinges.

The Chan group, in going along with the postponement, agreed to withdraw a use permit application for a sixth building, a seven - story unit which has stirred up considerable controversy.

However, Frank expressed misgivings on the new date.

"We wonder whether, when May 1 rolls around, we'll be in for another delay," he said.

Although the Chan group's preference is San Mateo County, Frank stressed that "it doesn't mean that much to us if we're going to continue to lose money."

"The county can't very well do without us taxwise," he opined, "considering the estimated $5 million assessed valuation of the completed center."

Plans call for a maximum of 47 building sites on the 102-acre Kings Mountain Road property, according to Frank. He said the completed center will never have more than 500 persons on its staff.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson said his office is filing a demurrer this week in answer to the suit filed by Donald J. Graham of Woodside and Dr. R. Wesley Wright of Atherton.

He said the demurrer is on the basis that there is no stated cause of action and that there has been no extraordinary expenditure of county money on center proceedings.

The litigants, in filing against the county supervisors, planning commission and building inspector, seek to stop proceedings under a temporary interim zoning ordinance set up for the center and court orders that would revoke use and building permits for the center's first unit.

Austin Clapp, attorney representing the two taxpayers, said the feeling is that the supervisors are wasting public funds on continued proceedings.

BOYS CLUB BOOSTERS . . . Dr. Andrew White (seated left) and Fielding McDearmon accepted one-dollar memberships in the Boys Club Boosters following last Friday's public meeting at Ravenswood High School. Purpose of the meeting, Boys Club officers said, was to stimulate citizen interest in the club's operating fund drive. A good number of those present joined the Boosters by paying the fee.

Booster Group Formed

New date for breaking ground at the Menlo Park Boys Club site in Belle Haven is Friday, March 23.

That date was announced by L. C. Smith, San Mateo contractor, who is donating his services in the drive to construct a gymnasium, study rooms and offices for the Boys Club at Market Place and Bayshore frontage road.

Smith conferred briefly with Dave Daniels, Boys Club president, following a public meeting at Ravenswood High School last Friday and then announced the starting date.

The meeting was attended by 100 or so persons, most of whom ended the evening by signing up as members of the new Boys Club Boosters.

This will be the organization which Boys Club directors hope will spark local interest in fund-raising.

Other meetings of the Boosters will be announced in the near future, Daniels said.

Many Menlo Park, county and school officials were present for the public meeting.

Master of ceremonies was Marvin Evanson, Menlo Park Rotary Club president.

He introduced Fred Koehler of the South San Francisco Boys Club, who spoke briefly on what Boys Club of America attempts to do and showed a motion picture produced by the BCA.

Development of the South San Francisco club was difficult because most people "don't know what the Boys Club is," Koehler said.

He pointed out that there are 596 clubs in 46 states attended by 800,000 oyungsters.

South City residents were under the impression that the club would be financed by the city, county or state. "Boys Clubs have never touched one cent of tax money," Koehler said.

They are completely supported by the people, he said.

Locally, the plan is to have a gymnasium, shops, study rooms and other facilities under one roof. There'll be counseling for boys who need this help.

Smith was introduced by Evanson and told the gathering not to be discouraged by small turnouts at initial meetings. He recounted his experiences in helping to get the San Mateo Boys Club project rolling.

After two years, a $100,000 building had gone up. And it cost only about $1200 — because of voluntary help offered by labor and management people, he said.

The same thing can happen here, Smith said.

Pair Quizzed About Crimes In Atherton

(See earlier story, Page 6)

Four Atherton burglaries commited during the weekend may have been solved with the capture of [illegible] San Francisco men in Daly City Tuesday night.

"I'm in line to look at the loot and question the suspects," Police Chief Leroy Hubbard said yesterday. "It looks good."

The two were identified as brothers Joseph Rivera, 28, and John Rivera, 25, who arrived in the bay area from New York Jan. 4.

Daly City police, who captured them, said they admitted committing between 170 and 200 burglaries on the Peninsula averaging seven to 10 a night and working four or five nights a week.

"A truckload" of loot, according to Daly City police, was found in the suspects' San Francisco apartment.

The suspects, according to news sources in the north county, admitted taking mostly cash. But they also took silverware, hi-fi sets, books of trading stamps and other items.

Most of their raids, they are said to have admitted, were conducted in the early evening and the two preferred to enter unoccupied houses through rear or side doors or windows.

Chief Hubbard said he hoped to get an opportunity to view the loot, to see if he could identify any of it, some time yesterday afternoon.

Atherton homes burglarized last weekend were those of Robert Reilly, 40 Deodora Drive; Ralph Harris Jr., 168 Hawthorne Drive; Harry Vaughn, 99 Linden Ave. and Charles Eddie, 123 Hawthorne Ave.

PURCHASE TRUCK

Sanitary District trustees here Monday night accepted a low bid of $1749.04 for a pick-up truck, to be delivered by the Towne Motor Co. of Redwood City. It will replace an older unit operated by the district. Towne's bid was the lowest of four received.

Tomorrow Night Sees Faculty Face Seniors at High School

Tomorrow night, a team of members of the "decadent, decrepit" faculty of Menlo-Atherton High School will face a team of members of the senior class at Menlo-Atherton gym.

The game, already sold out, is one of an evening of events designed to raise money for the student body fund. An "all you can eat" pancake dinner and a basketball game in which the Menlo-Atherton Scientific Society will face the Block M-A society will precede it.

The faculty team will be composed of a number of "inside" teachers, as well as members of the boys' physical education staff. To keep things even, members of this year's varsity basketball team won't be among the seniors facing the faculty.

The faculty also has recruited, from its number, a group of cheer leaders and pom-pon girls.

Members of both the faculty team and the senior class have been practicing for a week, according to advices from the campus.

Playing on the faculty team will be William Moser, John Comer, Charles Mendoza, Richard Hanson, James Riley, Lee Megginson, Sam Lugonja, Art Boettcher, Frank Bettencourt, Bob Harris, Glen Stern, Bob Gaughran and Bob Rebenstorf.

Cheerleaders are to include James Dunn, Richard Eglington and Paul Olette; pom-pon girls will be Miss Ann Boss, Mrs. Patricia Backhuas, and Miss Libby Jo Sanders.

STUDENT TEAM

Other faculty members who will aid in the production of the evening's festivities include Hanson, over-all supervisor; Jim Butler, faculty coach; Bill Loftus, referee; Al Faggetti, timekeeper; Mrs. Penny Tucker, manager; Paul Castoro and Pete Simmons, "medics;" Harry Wong, tickets; Vernon Fault, seating; Roy Rosendahl, doors and ticket collection; William Vargile, band; Corning McKennee, publicity.

Proceeds of the "all you can eat" pancake sale will be "100 per cent profit," according to student body spokesmen, because of the donations of many area firms and individuals. These include:

Dole Pineapple Co. of San Jose, fruit juice; Aunt Jemima pancake flour company of San Mateo, flour, place mats and napkins; Peninsula Creamery of Palo Alto, 500 half-pints of milk; Swift & Co. of San Francisco, sausage.

Broadway Market, Redwood City, syrup; executive board of the Menlo-Atherton PTA, kitchen help; Fathers club and Block M-A Society, dining hall labor and Alta Coffee Co. of San Francisco, coffee.

Fire District To Have No Vote Contest

George Tuft, member of the Menlo Park Fire Protection District board of commissioners for the past six years, will be reappointed to fill another three-year term.

An election would have been set for April 3, if a challenger had filed papers to run against the incumbent. No such challenger appeared; deadline for filing is now past.

Tuft, an executive of the Crown Zellerbach Corp. with offices in San Francisco, resides at 35 Linda Vista Ave. in Atherton. He moved to Atherton from unincorporated area in the fire district, and originally was appointed to replace retired commissioner Malcolm Peterson.

According to fire district custom, one member of the three-man board is appointed from Atherton, one from Menlo Park and one from unincorporated area.

As presently constituted, the board has Chairman Wallace Ott representing Menlo Park, and George Davis representing the unincorporated area.

In the absence of a contest, the county board of supervisors will reappoint Tuft to the commission, some time before the April 3 date.

Ballentine Heads New Lions Club

FRED BALLENTINE

Menlo Park's new "lunching" Lions club was officially organized Monday, with Fred Ballentine elected charter president and other officers selected.

Several members of Menlo Park's original Lions club, which meets evenings, also changed their affiliation to the new club in order to guide it on its way.

Ballentine, a real estate broker with August Associates, heads a slate of officers composed of the following: Johnny Edwards, first vice president; Vic Budnik, second vice president; Fred Parsons, third vice president; Dick Waschak, secretary; Kurt Henning, treasurer; Lee Orr, tail twister, and Harry Kirkorian, lion tamer.

Other directors include Gary Williams, Bill Brosge, Bob Clifford and Wallace Ott.

Ott formerly was a member of the sponsoring Lions club; another member of the senior group to move to the new club is Harold Cross, who resigned as president to aid the new club in its formation.

A tentative Monday noon meeting time was set; at present, the Stone Cellar will be the location of meetings.

March 10 is deadline for charter memberships, it was announced.

L. L. Johnston, charter president of the sponsoring club and a member of it for the past 25 years, acted as chairman of the Monday organization meeting, which was held at the Menlo Park-Atherton Board of Realtors' office.

Sanitary Dist. Eyes Two-Way Radio Setup

Menlo Park Sanitary District is looking into the possibility of getting two-way radios for its various trucks.

The district's board of trustees Monday night authorized the district superintendent to get information on such installations, so that workers won't have to report back to headquarters between jobs.

Board Secretary George Angus reports that the size of the district, which extends from Portola Valley to the bay, dictated the study.

As things now stand, it's possible for a work crew to finish a job in some distant area, then have to return all the way to district headquarters in civic center to get orders which will send them back to substantially the place from which they came.

Woman Burned As Flames Enwrap Bed

A Menlo Park woman, seriously burned when the bedding with which she was covered caught fire early yesterday, was reported in "fair" condition at Palo Alto-Stanford hospital Wednesday noon.

She was Mrs. Mary Beth Miller, 48, whose screams awakened her mother when she found herself swathed in flames at 3 a.m. at the family home at 2190 Avy Ave.

The mother, Mrs. Grace Hough, 81, put out the flames according to firemen, but meanwhile an officer of the Hill patrol had radioed an alarm to firemen.

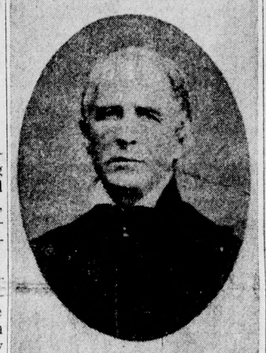

The fire victim, sheriff's deputies said, was burned over 70 percent of her body and was in a state of deep shock at the time they transported here to Palo-Alto-Stanford Hospital.

Mrs. Hough stated that she'd heard her daughter arise about 1:30 a.m. or 2 a.m. and walk around the house. She apparently returned to her room and lighted a cigaret, firemen speculated, and may have failed to notice sparks from it which might have alighted on her robe. The robe, they said, was more extensively burned than the bed clothes.

Two pieces of apparatus and 16 firemen responded to the alarm; they estimated damage at about $100.

INVESTIGATE FIRE

A minor fire at a service station at Woodland and University avenues was doused by attendants Saturday evening, local firemen reported. They said they were called to the scene to investigate at 8:03 p.m.

REV. JOSEPH BIXIO, S. J., Pastor 1857-70.

REMEMBERED . . .

. . . On Saturday morning, March 3, an anniversary Mass will be offered at St. Denis' Church in Menlo Park, observing the memory of the first priest in San Mateo County, Rev. Joseph Bixio, S.J. This "padre of the pioneers" rode horseback from San Francisco or Santa Clara to care for the spiritual needs of the early settlers who had established St. Denis' parish as the original house of worship after the California Missions. Father Bixio was pastor of St. Denis from 1856 until 1860.

REPORT EARNINGS

MENLO PARK (Special)—Consolidated Freightways finished 1961 with an after-tax earnings of $260,000, or 10 cents a share, on revenue of $159,979,000 it was announced today by the rtucking firm's president, William G. White.

This compared with a $2,675,000 loss by the company in 1960, or $1.07 per share, on revenues of $151,992,000.

Atherton Gets New Attorney --Black Resigns

Willard S. Johnston, a general practicing attorney and a resident of Atherton for the past 12 years, was named as the new city attorney by Atherton Mayor Henry Kuechler Monday night at the regular meeting of the Atherton Town Council.

Johnston succeeds Winston C. Black, whose resignation was accepted by the council Monday. Johnston was named immediately to replace him and was sworn in by city administrator Howard Boren.

Black, the city attorney for the past 18 years, gave no reasons for his publicly-unexpected departure, other than that it was "voluntary" and for personal reasons. Kuechler wouldn't comment on resignation either.

Johnston, 51, is a partner in the San Francisco law firm of Ackerman, Johnston, Johnston and Matthews, at 256 Montgomery St.

"I commute," Johnston said after the meeting, "but I've always been interested in taking part in the affairs of my community. I guess you can say that's why I accepted the job when it was offered to me."

He is a past president of the Atherton Civic Interest League, a member of the World Affairs council and a graduate of Stanford University and Harvard Law School.

Johnston and his wife, Beatrice, live at 394 Stevick Drive. They have three children: Backy, 24, Spencer, 22, and Alex, 17.

Case of the:

LOST GRANDMOTHER

"Dear Grandmother," writes a little girl from Odagsen, Germany, "we have not heard from you for many days and hope you will write very soon."

But her letter cannot be answered unless Mrs. Rosina Doerel can be found in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Doris Farman, proprietor of Dorel's Women's Apparel Shop in Menlo Park, has received two letters from the German family. The first she opened, thinking it was a business letter. With help from Horst Baumgart, Menlo Park watchmaker, she discovered it was a letter from a German child telling her grandmother the family news and reporting the effects of the recent storm in Odagsen.

No listing of such a name can be found in local directories and so Mrs. Farman hopes that someone reading this story will help her to redirect the letters. The return address is Fam. R. Dorel, 335 Odagsen 24, Germany.

Resuscitator Crew Aids Boy

Local firemen used their resuscitator last Thursday to aid the breathing of an eight-year-old boy who, they said, was experiencing difficulty in breathing shortly after eating lunch.

The boy, John Gueh, 1301 Hollyburne Ave., was taken to Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital.

FAULTY CORD

The firemen Friday responded to a call to 37 Tuscaloosa Ave. in Atherton, where a faulty electric cord had resulted in a short circuit in a light socket receptacle.

Lots of Talk, No Action:

Council in 4-Way Split on Zoning Proposal

Four councilmen with four differing opinions reached a stalemate Tuesday night on approval or rejection of a master plan revision affecting a section of West Menlo Park.

They'll try to vote again on March 15 when Michael Belangie, the fifth Councilman, is expected to be present.

Motions pro and con were introduced—but failed for lack of a second.

The amendment would change zoning policy, but not the zoning itself, for properties facing on University Drive, Valparaiso Avenue, Crane Street, and Oak Grove Avenue. The area is now zoned for single-family residential uses.

The policy change had been approved by the city planning commission after lengthy hearings.

Their recommendation is that the half-block facing Oak Grove Avenue should be reserved for commercial rezoning. The remaining section of the block would best be suited for apartment uses, the commission has stated.

The amendment would allow some commercial frontage on the opposite side of University Drive from Millie Ave. to Rose Avenue. It would also allow Crane Street frontage opposite the block in question to become completely zoned for apartment use.

One of the points of disagreement was the commission recommendation that the apartment zoning would be allowed only when the adjacent R-3 zoned area on Hoover Street is built up past 70 per cent of capacity. Apartment uses on Hoover now cover about 50 per cent of the zoned area.

OBJECTION

Only Councilman Ira Bonde seemed to object to the suggested zoning pattern as a whole. Bonde said he didn't like the layout of the apartment areas at all.

His motion to deny the amendment had no second.

Councilman Silas Payne, declaring his support of the philosophy of master planning, moved for approval. He had a second from Councilman Charles Anderson—but would not accept a revision eliminating the 70 per cent qualification for the R-3 area. Payne's motion also died.

William R. Lawson, who can't second a motion unless he temporarily steps down as mayor, was powerless to help any of the proposals come to a vote.

Lawson's feeling was that the suggested zoning pattern was all right—but that ensuing rezoning should not be delayed.

Councilmen eventually agreed on one thing—Bonde's motion to hold the matter over two weeks until Belangie can vote on it.

A series of letters from residents of the Valparaiso-San Mateo Drive area further west asking that their area also be considered for R-3 zoning were referred to the planning commission.

Lawson said the council "recognized that these (people) may be affected by the amendment before us . . . but the council is not hearing or making any decision tonight on property not covered in amendment 1-A."

OTHER ACTIONS

Another master plan amendment fared better. The council unanimosuly approved amendment 1-B, covering much of the Sharon Estate development in West Menlo Park.

Attached to the amendment by Anderson was a stipulation that a "private or emergency road" be provided when developer Duncan MacDonald builds two "islands" or apartments in the midst of the Sharon Heights Golf and Country Club.

The road would link the two apartment islands. MacDonald protested vigorously, but said he'd go along with the council's thinking.

City Planner Bob Gray said his department, the planning commission and Menlo Park Fire Protection District feel the roadway is necessary for emergency access. MacDonald held that the access he proposes is adequae and that a road link could eventually become a public road, creating too much traffic.

The council also approved rezoning the Sand Hill Road site proposed for a convalescent hospital—provided that a use permit already granted by the planning commission be amended.

The amendment states that the hospital construction can't start until a final subdivision map is approved by the council.

City Manager John R. Johnson said he believed this would not delay construction and would also "protect the city's interests."

The site is located where the extension of Monte Rosa Drive will meet Sand Hill Road. Johnson indicated the city wanted to assure proper development of Monte Rosa.

Watching the first part of the meeting Tuesday night were Boy Scouts from Troop 151, Willow School.

Big Change In Woodside Plan Studied

A change in Woodside's master plan that would allow an increase in residential-institutional zoning west of the town center has been proposed this week.

The suggestion made to the town's planning commission Monday night by Mrs. Edward G. Russell specified the area immediately north and south of Woodside Road between Canada Road and Miramontes Avenue.

Mrs. Russell's letter also called for the eventual widening of Woodside Road between Whiskey Hill Road and Miramontes.

The planners, agreeing that her plan had merit, invited Mrs. Russell to explain it in more detail at a future study meeting. No date has been set as yet.

The commission Monday also considered changes in the pattern of secondary roads as a result of the proposed Summit Springs subdivision; interchange plans dealing with the proposed Junipero Serra Boulevard near the future College of San Mateo site; and a general revision of the master plan to deal with traffic and building problems that may develop in the future.

Recommended were a change in the pattern of secondary roads in the hill area west of town and elimination of the Oak Hill Drive connection and modification of the Summit Springs Road extension to connect with Kings Mountain Road.

Public hearings will be held next month on the secondary road changes and the interchange plans.

Menlo School Seniors Cited

Outstanding scholastic records over a three-year period have won Bank of America Achievement awards for two seniors at Menlo School.

Winners in the annual competition, chosen by members of the faculty, were named this week by William P. Cunningham, headmaster.

The trophy winners and fields in which they excel are Vincent Stephen Meyer Jr., liberal arts and Harrison Minge Brown, science and mathematics.

As their next step in the achievement awards program, the trophy winners will undergo screening with candidates from other schools

AT OAKLAND MEETING

Dr. Howard Fenton of Menlo Park was among those who last week attended the California Chiropractic Association educational syposium in Oakland.

'Ramparts':

New Magazine Publishing Firm Opens Offices in Menlo Park

America's leading creative writers today were offered a distinctive new medium by which to reach the large audidience of Cristian intellectuals.

Edward M. Keating, Atherton lawyer-businessman and publisher of The Layman's Press, 1178 Chestnut St., here, said his firm will publish a national Catholic literary journal, "Ramparts." The inaugural issue will appear in May.

"Our objective is to fill a void in the publishing field," Keating said. "'Ramparts,' under the guidance on an editorial board composed of outstanding Catholic laymen and authors, will provide an uninhibited opportunity for the Christian intellectual to explore all areas of the mind."

According to Keating, the new literary journal has grown out of the acute need to publish bold and imaginative fiction, poetry, criticism and essays reflecting those positive principles of the Hellenic-Christian tradition which have shaped up and sustained our civilization for 2000 years and which are still required to guide human beings in an age grown increasingly secular, bewildered and afraid.

In outlining the editorial policy of "Ramparts," Keating emphasized no special slanting of thought would be sought from contributors.

"We demand only that our authors preserve the intellectual integrity that is their most valued possession and that they pass this integrity on to their audience," he said.

Keating, who received his law degree from Stanford University in 1950, also taught the drama and short story for a year at Santa Clara University. He has studied play writing at Yale under John Grassner, in addition to his various business and professional activities. A native of New York, 36-year-old Keating served in the Navy during World War II. He has lived in the Bay Area since 1946.

In addition to Keating, who serves as editor, other staff members of "Ramparts" include Clayton Barbeau, story editor; Harry Stiehl, poetry editor; Earl Douglass Jr., review editor and Robert O. Bowen, associate editor. Donald Reimer is assistant to the publisher of The Layman's Press and production manager of "Ramparts."

Among the authors who will appear in the first issues, Keating said, are Gabriel Marcel, Robert O. Bowen, Brother Antoninus, Clayton Barbeau, Harry Stiehl, James Schevill, Thomas Parkinson, Gerhardt Steinke, Charles McCabe and Seymour Cain.

Valley Center Approves Constitution

A constitution and by-laws were unanimously approved Monday night for the new Portola Valley Community Center, thus clearing the way for its incorporation.

Myron Alexander, attorney representing the center, said he will send application papers for incorporation to Sacramento this week.

The center's by-laws provide for three groups of members: active, associate, and patron. No limit has been set on membership.

The center's advisory committee, which will become a board of directors following incorporation, plans a yo-yo competition for grade school youngsters and a dance for members within a month.

Fire Chiefs See LA Fire Pictures

Chief George B. Carter, Deputy Chief E. J. Wickstrom and Captain Dan Hollywood of the Menlo Park Fire District were guests of the Menlo Park District Association of Insurance Agents this week at the Palo Alto Elks Club.

Victor Sleven, of the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau was guest speaker, following the showing of motion pictures showing the devastating Los Angeles brush fire of December.

The meeting was a combind one of several district associations, and fire department officials of several other area depertemnts also were in attendance. Wallace Ott, chairman of the board of fire commissioners and a member of the association, invited the local firemen in behalf of the insurance group.

DRIVING RECORD

Four of Goodwill's truck drivers, including Richard J. Camel who covers Menlo Park, will receive Safe Driving Awards from Fred Payne of Liberty Mutual, in Goodwill's recreation room, 986 Howard Street in San Rrancisco, on Monday, Feb. 26, at 4 p.m.

School Trustees Call for Bids

Menlo Park School District trustees last week okayed a call for bids for instructional supplies for the coming school year.

For the past several years such supplies have cost the district an average of about $12,000, according to business manager John Richert. It's expected the low bids will total about the same this year, he added.

Included in the bidding are about 100 "standard supply" items in varying lots. These include paper, ink, rubber bands, paste, chalk and similar items used in the classrooms.

John Shippes On Dean's List

CLAREMONT (Special) — Dean John Atherton has announced 92 students as qualifying for the Dean's List for the first semester at Claremont Men's College.

Among those winning honors is John S. Shippes, a freshman, son of Dr. Eva M. Blum, 480 Whiskey Hill Road, Woodside.

A student must maintain an average of B or better to be named to the Dean's List, Atherton said.

COMPLETE COURSE

Betty Armstrong and Margaret Kennard, both of Menlo Park, recently completed a course in basic supervisory techniques, at the Veterans hospital here.

Educator Set As Speaker Here Tonight

The Town Hall Association of San Mateo will present Dr. Max Rafferty, widely known and popular educator, in a dramatic discussion on "The Crisis in California Education, at 8 p.m., tonight, March 1, in Burgess Theater, Burgess Park, Menlo Park.

Dr. Rafferty will bring to Town Hall listeners a wealth of facts on education in California, gained from 22 years experience in teaching and administrative work.

He is convinced that the teaching profession will be in the forefront of the titanic struggle between the free half and the slave half of humanity. "Our nation is in deadly danger and only education can sove it," Rafferty predicts.

In 1956, Dr. Rafferty came into national prominence when the American Association of School Administrators conferred upon him the Shankland Memorial Award for research in school administration.

Currently, Dr. Rafferty is superintendent of schools at La Canada, Calif. He has been widely publicized as a "dark-horse" candidate for the office of California state superintendent of schools.

Admission to all Town Hall meetings is free.

Lenten Series Set to Start At Church Here

Dr. Neil Q. Hamilton, associate professor of New Testament at the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, will conduct Lenten worship and study for six Wednesday evenings at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church starting March 7 at 8 p.m.

He has chosen the theme: "Our Faith—Past and Present" which is based upon the book of Ephesians.

Dr. Hamilton is a graduate of Duke University and Princeton Theological Seminary. From 1953 to 1956 he studied at Heidelberg, Germany, and at Basel, Switzerland, under Professor Oscar Cullman, in the field of the New Testament.

The community, friends, and members of the congregation are invited to participate in this observance of preparation for the Easter season.

Samuel Roland Off to Japan

Dr. Samuel I. Roland of Atherton last Friday left for Japan, to negotiate for possible expansion of activity of the San Francisco Life Insurance Co. into the orient.

Dr. Roland, who has been on the faculty at Stanford medical school, is one of the founders of the firm which was chartered two years ago and which now has $44,000,000 worth of insurance in force.

Dr. Roland said he will negotiate with Japanese insurance executives, to explore the feasibility of the company doing business in the orient. He will be gone for two weeks.

Robert Mann, also of Atherton, is a member of the board of directors of the firm.

Dr. Roland, who is a clinical teaching assistant in surgery, resides at 50 Stern Lane.

IN FAR EAST

SASEBO, Japan (Special) — Navy Ensign James F. Derry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Derry of 52 Isabella Ave., Atherton, is serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Los Angeles, which is undergoing repair at the Naval Base in Sasebo,

WOMAN DOWN

The firemen Monday at 8:45 p.m. were called to assist a 72-year-old woman who had fallen from a bed at 340 San Mateo Drive.

New Book:

SRI Staffer Is Author of Text On Protection from Fallout

Edward M. Keating, Atherton lawyer-businessman and publisher of The Layman's

A book on fallout shelter preparation, prepared by a Stanford Research Institute staff member who has become one of the nation's leading authorities on survival in the case of nuclear attack, was published nationally on Feb. 28.

It's titled, "Live: A Handbook for Survival in Nuclear Attack," and it's been written by Rogers S. Cannell, director of the emergency planning research center at the Institute.

Prentice-Hall are the publishers.

The book spells out the housewife's role in preparation for defense against nuclear attack, and also evaluates national recovery.

"Few housewives realize that they have a responsibility to the family fallout shelter every bit as important as their husbands," say the publishers.

"While the man in the family builds the shelter and concerns himself with radiation detectors and ventilation, it is the woman who must plan for meals, medical supplies, clothing, books, games, and even remember to set aside a clock and a calendar.

"Provisioning the shelter with the myriad necessities and personal wants of the members of her family for the extended period they may have to spend in it, is as much the housewife's job as the weekly trip to the supermarket — everything from a can opener and a frying pan to soap and powdered milk has to be planned for, acquired and stored in the shelter."

"'Live' is the most complete and authoritative work to date on the subject of what to expect and do, before, during and after a nuclear attack," the publishers say.

"It covers every phase of the nuclear disaster, from the first warning to the eventual recovery of the community and the nation.

"With adequate advance preparation," Cannell states emphatically, "the vast majority of our population could survive — and we could rebuild our nation — if we have the will."

'CHECK LIST'

In the housewife's check list, Cannell has provided a list of needed foods in quantities sufficient for one adult for two weeks (the amount of time generally accepted as required for the safe decay of radiation intensity).

From this list, the housewife can determine the amount of food her family will need. Cannell urges that foods be selected for food value and compactness, rather than for cost or palatability. He also discusses the storage of water and available sources of uncontaminated water in the home and reveals little known information about radiation and fallout contamination.

For example: potatoes, carrots and onions, that have been exposed to some fall out radiation, can be made safe by peeling. Fallout, Cannell points out, is visible as dust and can be washed, peeled or swept away in much the same manner.

"Live" lists essential cooking materials, and warns that a change of clothing for each member of the family should be stored in the shelter. The book is not limited to lists of provisions and supplies. It includes the complete plans for three types of easy-to-build, family shelters, ranging in price from $15 to $700.

Cannell also describes the post-attack world. Study shows that currently stockpiled farm surpluses could feed the nation for two years, that there would be sufficient uncontaminated water underground, and that fuel, electric power, transportation, and housing would be adequate during the recovery period.

The crucial time would be the two weeks immediately following the attack when fallout would be a serious hazard. A majority of population would certainly survive in any of the shelters, private or community, described in "Live."

NO SINGLE IDEAL

There is no one shelter solution that is ideal for everyone, but each family can find a suitable survival plan in this book, and it will be the woman in the family who will be responsible for seeing that all the essentials for this period will be on hand, the writer says.

Cannell, who received his degrees in engineering from Stanford University, worked with the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, the Secretary of Defense, and the Army in its development of new concepts of air and civil defense.

He joined the Stanford Research Institute in 1954. He has worked with the California Research and Development Company, the Knappen Tippetts Abbett Engineering Co., the Arabian-American Oil Co., and the Bomb Shelter Division of the Panama Canal Commission.

He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Society of American Military Engineers, the Engineering Services Society, and the Research Society of America.

Unification Is Topic In Ravenswood

How would school district unification affect education?

This is the question to be explored when the Ravenswood City School District Citizen's Advisory Committee holds a panel discussion tonight at 8 o'clock in the school board meeting room, 2160 Euclid Ave.

Citizen's Committee chairman Ben Marsh said the panelists will be J. Paul Bradley, chairman of the San Mateo county committee on school district organization, and William J. Platt, vice-chairman.

State law now requires that all counties, excluding San Francisco where it has already been accomplished, put together a master plan that looks toward eventual unification of elementary and high school districts.

The San Mateo committee has been the planning agency here for such a master plan. (Ravenswood district representative is Mrs. Margaret Cochrane.)

Questions on the status of the committee's work are welcome, Marsh said.

Bradley, also a member of the San Mateo County school board, is a resident of El Granada on the coastside. Platt, a Menlo Park school trustee, lives in Atherton. Both have been active committee members for 10 years.

Platt is recognized as an expert on the financing of education and has spoken on the subject throughout the state. His most recent talk was given at UCLA.

Englert Replaced As Board Head

J. Hart Clinton of San Mateo, recently elected chairman of the board of directors of Catholic Social Service for San Mateo county, will preside at the annual dinner meeting of the board, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. today, March 1, at the San Mateo Elks Club.

He will take over the gavel from Leo T. Englert of Atherton, retiring chairman.

Eugene Hoffman of Menlo Park, a retiring board member, will be the master of ceremonies. Other retiring members of the board to be honored are Rt. Rev. Edwin J. Kennedy of Menlo Park; Dr. Charles Miller, Dr. Horace A. Wald, Tony Ricci, Leo Englert, Bernard Gillis and Mrs. Ralph K. Davis, Mrs. Horace W. Ericksen and Mrs. George J. Greenwood.

New board members to be introduced at the dinner include Rev. Thomas I. Kennedy, pastor of St. Denis Church of Menlo Park.

Cub Pack 109 Holds Dinner

Cub Pack 109 of Oak Knoll School held its Blue and Gold Father and Sons dinner at the Stone Cellar restaurant recently.

A Stanford student from India spoke to the guests on youth and Cub Scouts in India.

At each Cub's table setting was a ceramic model of a Cub Scout that had been molded and painted by the Cubs.

A contest to guess the number of beans in a jar was held and the prize won by Cub Wes Berry.

Optometrist At Meeting

Dr. W. W. Anderson of Menlo Park and Mrs. Anderson last week attended the four-day annual congress of the California Optometric Association in Los Angeles.

They were members of the San Francisco-Marin Counties Optometric Society delegation.

Mrs. Anderson is national president of the women's auxiliary to the American Optometric Association.

NAVAL TRAINEE

PENSACOLA, Fla. (Special) — Naval Aviation Cadet Paul F. Dibble, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Dibble of 221 Woodside Rad, Woodside, was graduated Feb. 9 from the Naval School of Pre-Flight at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Summer School Information Is Available

All children of first through seventh grade age residing in the Menlo Park Elementary School District, whether they are enrolled in private schools during the regular term or not, are eligible to take courses in the district's summer school.

This was explained this week by school administrators, who added that an enrollment of approximately 700 is to be accommodated.

The summer session will be at Encinal School from July 9 to Aug. 3; however, preliminary enrollment blanks must be filled out and returned to the school district office by March 9.

Children attending the session will take either fundamentals or enrichment courses from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and will have the added option of taking elective courses from 11:30 p.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Featured in the elective program will be art for grade levels two through four, Spanish fundamentals for grades four to six, music appreciation for grades five and six, typing for grades five to eight, and rapid writing and mechanical drawing for grades seven and eight.

Persons wishing further information or brochures should contact the Menlo Park School District office, 555 Glenwood Ave., DA 3-1388.

Floyd Davidson 30 Years Pilot

Atherton resident Floyd H. Davidson, a United Air Lines captain, this week observes his 30th anniversary with the airline.

After graduation from the University of Chicago, Davidson served in the U.S. Army Air Corps as a pilot from 1929 to 1932. In 1932 he joined United as a first officer. During World War II, Davidson served in Panama, India and China and was awardtd the Bronze Star and the Distinguished Service Cross. He attained the rank of Lt. Colonel.

Davidson and his wife, Ruth, live at 1 O'Dell Place. They have two sons, Rick and Barrett.

South County Eagle Scouts Recognized at Court Event

Twenty-one Eagle Scouts from south county areas, including 11 from the Live Oak District area (Menlo Park, Atherton, Woodside, East Palo Alto) last week were honored at an Eagle Recognition Court event.

The affair was held Feb. 19 at the court chambers of Superior Court Judge Louis B. Dematteis, and featured appearances of representatives of several south county municipal and service agencies.

The entire staff of Judge Dematteis' court was on hand for the event, including Court Reporter Glenn Yoder, Bailiff Arthur Rudd and Court Clerk Eugene Neff.

Representing lawyers for the event were District Attorney Keith Sorenson and Landis Weaver, Menlo Park attorney, who acted as defense council.

Others present for the recognition affair included Redwood City Fire Chief Joseph Lodi, Redwood City Police Chief William Faulstich, Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce President Arthur Flegel, Menlo Park Mayor William Lawson and Sequoia High School District Board Chairman Dr. Da Sears.

Raymond Kneip, comman of Chapter 2, Knights of Dumis, and Captain John Kenne dy, advancement chairman, also were present.

Local Eagle Scouts to be recognized included Richard Lund of Troop 215; Robert Blair, Troop 120; Richard Harris, Troop 127; Galen Rathbun, Post 163; Kenneth W. Wooley, Troop 215.

Don Fagot, Troop 102; Terry Cullen, Troop 102; Bruce Werlhof, Troop 107; Tom Robertson, Post 163; James Stickney, Troop 102; Robert Cross, Troop 107.

The Rev. David Held, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Redwood City, gave the invocation.

New Monitor For Carad In Ravenswood

Roy T. Caler, 213 Lexington Dr., Menlo Park, has been appointed by Superior Judge Frank Rose to replace Joseph B. Feder of Palo Alto as official monitor of Carad Chemical Co. in East Palo Alto.

Feder sought release from his contract to take a full-time job.

Caler can be reached at Davenport 3-4338.

The monitor is supposed to report to Rose periodically on the controversial production of odor-producing dimethylsulfoxide at Carad. The appointment followed a court hearing in which Rose directed that Carad cease DMSO production within six months and that a monitor keep track of interim complaints.

BOND SALES TOTAL

United States Savings Bond sales in San Mateo county in January totalled $411,988, according to George A. McQueen, county bond sales chairman.

New Stop Signs, Summer Rec Are Topics of Atherton Board

Four more stop signs and some center striping at dangerous intersections in Atherton were approved by the Atherton Town Council Monday night at its regular monthly meeting.

Police chief Leroy Hubbard, who had asked for the signs and striping, got the go-ahead with little discussion. The stop signs will be erected on Austin Ave. at the Selby Lane intersection, Belbrook Way at section, Belbrook Way, at Drive both at Selby Lane and at Stockbridge Ave.

The striping will be a double line running 100 feet both east and west on Ralston Road and Stockbridge and will be used to guide motorists around the large oak tree that protrudes into the street at that intersection. The tree has been painted white and a pillar installed by the city but it still is an accident hazard to motorists not watching for it, Hubbard said.

The council also gave its official blessing to San Mateo County to provide voting machines and do some of the clerical work involved in the general election April 10. The voting machines will be something new in Atherton but will save considerable time in vote-counting at each of the three Atherton precincts, the councilmen decided.

A list of costs of the Encinal School PTA summer recreation program was scanned and approved by an appropriation of $1200 to pay the costs of this year's program. The tab was $1000 last year but the council was informed that rising attendance had called for more expenditures.

It'll be summer and time for budget talks before the council again will bring up the business of joining the South San Mateo County Garbage Disposal District, partly because there's nothing in the present budget from which to draw the $2900 required. Atherton at present is the lone south county holdout from the district.

Along other lines the council:

Denied a variance request by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Lerios, 91 Selby Lane, to reduce the side yard requirement to permit construction of an addition to their dwelling.

Approved the request of Marshall and Booch of 87 Selby Lane for a variance in the rear yard in subdividing their property into two lots.

Adopted a weed abatement program for the year.

Granted the request of Fox & Carskadon, Inc., realtors, to erect a three-by-five foot tract sign on "Atherton West" subdivision, on the old Sharon Heights property.

Volpiano Wins Fight on CD Minutes

Woodside Fire Chief John Volpiano won his fight this week to have two points corrected in the official minutes of a Jan. 11 county civil defense meeting for special districts.

In a letter mailed last week to all who attended the meeting, A. S. Middaugh, assistant to County Manager E. R. Stallings, noted that the corrections had been made, without referring to Volpiano's two previous letters requesting the action.

The name of Sheriff Whitmore, attributed to a Volpiano statement, was stricken from the minutes, as was a phrase stating that Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald wanted data on the districts for use at a legislative hearing on special districts. The latter was reworded "with data for an upcoming meeting in Sacramento."

The last point brought charges from Volpiano and Mrs. Freida Davies that the civil defense meeting was merely a cover-up for gaining information in support of a bill that would facilitate a move toward "metro" government. The bill now under study in Sacramento would consolidate all special districts under county control.

"As far as I'm concerned, I can't see any sense in pursuing the matter further," Volpiano said on receipt of the corrections. He had previously threatened to take his case to the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

4-H Clubbers On Snow Trip

Several area members last weekend aprticipated in the San Mateo county 4-H Clubs' annual snow trip, which took them to Pinecrest.

From the Woodside-Atherton Club, Annabell Callaghan and Mrs. John Callaghan made the trip.

Members of the Portola Valley club who attended included Sandra Enzenbacher, Louise Grant, Joan Hoss, Laurie and Lindlee Lawrence and Holly Wilson.

Joanne Daily and Arthur Mason of the Skyline club also attended.

Nominations for the standard bearers for the party in the Congressional race, and for Assembly candidates for the 27th (North County) and 26th (South County) contest were made. William J. Keller, center, San Francisco newspaperman of Hillsborough, was the single nominee for the congressional seat, and won the convention's blanket endorsement. A primary battle seems to loom for Dennis Woodman, Ladera attorney, right, and Menlo Park engineer Don Barr, left, who were both endorsed for the 26th assembly district seat.

Cadet D. Beyer Pilot of Jets

PENSACOLA, Fla. (Special) — Naval Aviation Cadet Dean H. Beyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Beyer of 200 Waverley St., Menlo Park, successfully completed the basic jet training course, Feb. 5, while attached to Training Squadron Four at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., and was transferred to the Advanced Training Command at Corpus Christi, Tex.

During his training with the squadron he accumulated over 110 hours of jet flight time while perfecting acrobatics, basic and radio instruments, formation flying, night flying and air-to-air gunnery.

The culmination of the training was made when he successfully completed six arrested carrier landings and six catapult take-offs from the training carrier USS Antietam, operating in the Gulf of Mexico.

Before entering the Navy in October 1960, Cadet Beyer attended San Jose State College.

Lt. McDermont In Training

WEBB AFB, Texas (Special) — Second Lieutenant Alexander V. McDermont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verna A. McDermont of 90 Irving Ave., Atherton, has entered United States Air Force pilot training here.

Lieutenant McDermont, a graduate of Oregon State University, Corvallis, will fly T-37 and T-33 jets during the yearlong flying training course. He also will receive special academic and military training and will be awarded the silver wings of a pilot upon graduation.

The lieutenant is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Local Realtors To Host State Prexy

The Menlo Park-Atherton Board of Realtors are serving as host to members of Boards of Realtors from the entire Peninsula at a luncheon at the Hilton Inn, International Airport, to welcome the 1962 president of the California Real Estate Association, Charles H. Brown, on his annual visit, it was announced by Albert R. Crosby, president of the host board.

David A. Diegelman, vice president of District 25 of the state association, will act as master of ceremonies as more than 200 members of six local boards greet Brown and hear his message.

Brown will be accompanied by his wife and CREA Vice President H. Jackson Pontius and Mrs. Pontius. CREA represents 171 real estate boards in California.

Other boards involved in this meeting are the San Francisco Real Estate Board, Howard McGurrin, president; North San Mateo County Board of Realtors, Thomas Ryan, president, Pacifica-Coastside Board of Realtors, Frederic Lane, president San Mateo-Burlingame Board of Realtors, John Cockroft, Jr., president, and Redwood City-San Carlos-Belmont Board of Realtors, Ralph Ebener, president.

VA Hospital Promotes 7

Dr. John Prusmack, director of the Menlo Park Veterans' Hospital, this week announces the promotion of seven residents of this city to the rank of nursing assistant, GS-4.

Those promoted included Henry R. Lofton Jr., 171 Hamilton Ave.; Charles L. Jones, VA Hospital; John I. Boyd, 1368 Windermere Ave.; Carl F. Ranier, VA Hospiital; Hailey C. Ranier, VA Hospital; Hailey C. Edward Johnson, 1437 Chilco, and Edwin J. Aydelette, VA Hospital.

String Musicians Set Jam Session

Cellists and string bassists from the Menlo Park city schools will hold a "jam session" March 4 from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m., in the Encinal School auditorium.

The 23 cellists include 10 beginning cellists and 13 from the orchestra.

The four orchestra "dog house" players plus one intermediate bassist will take part, as well as three boys presently playing violin and viola against the time when a string bass will become available.

Lucie Landen will conduct the session.

The children will also have the opportunity to have a short workout with Robert Becker, string specialist of the Sequoia Union High School District.

Also present will be several private teachers. This is a "wood shedding" session but anyone interested in watching 23 cellists and five bassists making music together is welcome.

Grease Aflame Causes Damage

An estimated $50 damage resulted, Firemen said, when overheated grease started to burn, scorching walls at the John Brown residence at 210 Camino al Lago Saturday evening.

They said the fire started when John Brown Jr., 16, attempted to make himself some popcorn.

The fire was out by the time firemen arrived.

SABBATH SERVICE

March 2, Friday evening service at Temple Beth Jacob will begin at 6 p.m. as this is the Family Service Sabbath, according to Rabbi Herbert D. Teitelbaum, who will conduct the service and speak.

Sabbath morning services will begin at 9:30 a.m. on March 3 and the Junior Congregation, under the direction of Raphael Chodos will begin at 10 a.m.

'Combined' School?

'Mentally Retarded' Class Here Topic of Report to Trustees

Menlo Park School District administrators last week were told to continue to explore the possibility of combining the district's mentally retarded program with that of some other district.

And though trustees conceded that the present program, operated for seven pupils here, was costly, they gave no indication that they'd abandon it.

And, administrators pointed out, the establishment of a class for such children often results in the bringing-forward of others in a similar situation whose parents previously didn't know there was such a class available.

The class in this district is under the direction of Paul Berry, and meets at Encinal School.

The trustees' remarks and those of the administration came at a Feb. 20 meeting of the school board, at which the history of the class also was reviewed.

The report recommended no specific actions on the part of the board.

"Until 1960," the report reviewed, "educable mentally retarded children residing in the Menlo Park district were accommodated in special training classes at the Al Portal School in San Bruno.

"In September of that year, lack of space made it mandatory that city districts provide their own accommodations. A class of eight pupils (three from Menlo Park, three from Las Lomitas and two from the Portola Valley School District) was organized at Encinal."

The report points out that the education code limits special training classes to 15 pupils. Eligibility is limited to those with an IQ (intelligence quotient) of 50 to 75, as measured by a credentialed psychologist.

"Placement in the special class is made only after an individual conference with the parents and a thorough study of the child by an admissions board," the report continues.

Members of the board include Curriculum Director William Fisher, Encinal Principal Mrs. Ina Porter, District psychometrist John Kerby, Berry, and School Nurse Mrs. Florence Luchini.

The child must have physical control, social development and emotional stability also, the report stated.

"The curriculum," says the report, is designed for children who are incapable of being educated efficiently and profitably through ordinary classroom instruction.

"Children are educated in a way that is equal to their potential, but the class is not a 'remedial' class with emphasis on the regular subject matter.

"The curriculum is designed to paepare the children to become economically independent, useful, and socially accepted."

The enrollment in the class is down to seven this year owing to the withdrawal of Las Lomitas and Portola districts, but, according to Fisher, more may come forward.

He added that a class of such size has some advantages and also some drawbacks.

DISADVANTAGES

It's small enough to be managed easily, on the one hand, but such a small group means that the class members are of a large spread in age.

In a larger school, it would be possible to have smaller roups within the same age range.

Fisher pointed out that the cost of operating the school during the first two years has resulted in a high figure for average daily attendance of each child.

This might be unrealistic, he said, in view of the fact that some capital equipment which won't have to be duplicated is figured into the amount.

On the other hand, he said transportation to and from a "combined" school — if ne can be found within a reasonable distance — might cost enough to wipe out any cost advantage that might accrue.

As We See It:

Alameda de las Pulgas: A Problem for Motorists

One morning last week, a resident of the area west of Menlo Park reported that she'd seen an accident on Alameda de las Pulgas: A large collie dog, she said, had been hit by a car and tossed into the air.

She added that the driver of the car stopped momentarily, then drove off, and that the owner of the dog had arrived shortly after, examined his pet, and taken it away—hopefully for treatment.

She added that during the morning and evening hours, when workers and students are going to and from their homes, traffic conditions on the Alameda are "just murder."

She's right.

The Alameda is a narrow, not particularly flat, street and as things now stand it's carrying about as big a volume of traffic as it can during peak hours.

Traffic isn't really very fast on the street during peak hours—congestion, people turning on and off the thoroughfare and the condition of the pavement prevent speeding.

It's under the jurisdiction of the sheriff's office and the California Highway Patrol and these agencies undoubtedly find traffic law enforcement made difficult by the fact that they can't find many speeders. For how, after all, can an officer identify and cite a driver who's suffering a momentary lapse of attention?

As we say, it's a problem. It deserves study. And it deserves the recognition of every motorist who uses the Alameda during those peak traffic hours.

Teachers, Too, Must Now Learn 'News Judgement'

Last week, as Spaceman John Glenn Jr. successfully orbited the earth three times, teachers at area schools found themselves "playing it by ear:" for all of Tuesday morning, they had to modify their programs to let the youngsters literally see history in the making.

These are parlous times. There will be a lot more history made, and reported instantaneously, in the years to come.

A check with area school agency curriculum devisers revealed that, so far, there's no set policy as to when, and how much, a regular classroom program should be modified so that the youngsters can participate, vicariously, as mankind makes his first small steps out into the planetary system and possibly the great void beyond.

Perhaps it's just as well. The interest which a given event generates as it happens, might well be a teacher's key to whether or not to make special accommodations to bring news of it into a classroom.

Teachers, like newspapermen, will have to get to know a big story—one worthy of the attention of their classes—from a lesser one, just by the sound of it.

An Opportunity To Aid Youth

Now, we can put our money where our mouths are.

We can do it by supporting the Menlo Park Boys' Club organization, which last week set itself up to collect money for the first year of operation of the club itself.

We have been telling each other that youth has a problem; that in a decentralized community of homes like Menlo Park, there's really too few places for young men to go for character-building recreation and fellowship and that, when the boys get to that age where they don't want to hang around the house all the time, they're apt to spend too much time hanging around the streets and getting their recreation as best they can.

And we've been telling ourselves that the problem is —or, at least, ought to be—worse in areas where the population density is greatest.

Last week, the Boys' Club organization formally was formed.

Its representatives are apt to contact you.

That is your opportunity.

The Man-and-Wife Newspaper Still Has Its Place

For 25 years, Floyd F. McCue has been Editor and Publisher of the weekly newspaper in Redwood City. In his "County Comment" column this week, McCue takes a quick glance at that anniversary and a peek at some of the highlights of that quarter of a century.

We want here to go further than his own modest notice of a milestone. Floyd McCue and his wife Lillian represent one of the proudest tradition sof the American newspaper and of America itself. As a man-and-wife team, independent and self-reliant, they alone have been responsible for every issue of their newspaper, 52 issues a year – 1300 issues in their 25 years – with never a publication missed.

With the disease of bigness ever more afflicting our society, it is encouraging to know that individual responsibility and courage have not altogether vanished from the scene. It is particularly encouraging to find these qualities surviving in the field of journalism, to know that not all editorial decision are reached "in conference," and that something of the crusading personal journalist still remains, the man who writes, prints and distributes his own newspaper, calling things as he sees them.

We salute Floyd and Lillian McCue for 25 years of loyal service to a community and to the ideals of a nation.

TELLS US:

You'll hear more about another event in the near future: the annual Scout-O-Rama held at the San Mateo county Fair and Fiesta grounds.

This year the affair will feature the physical witness aspect of Scout training.

New benches have been installed in the recently refurbished Fremont Park at University Drive and Santa Cruz Avenue.

The new ones, securely anchored in concrete, are supposed to last a long time, according to City Manager John Johnson.

Recent thinning of trees at the southwest corner of the park, by the way, reveals those dedicatory plaques which Menlo Park residents had placed, as trees were planted, reminding them of the names of local men who died in World War II.

You're right. There was, too, some ice around Tuesday morning, in sheltered places where some shallow ponds remained after last week's rains.

In the works for the end of April is something that's apt to turn into a big event.

It's going to be a Cub Scout "Walk-a-zoo" to be held at Burgess Park, with Cub Scouts from the Live Oak and Thunderbird (Redwood City) districts bringing their pets for judging on such merits as:

"Dog with longest tail," "dog with shortest tail," "dog with most spots," "dog who looks most like his master," and so forth.

The details haven't all been worked out as yet. But this event holds promise.

Elsewhere in this paper are reported the results of area sportswriters' ballotings on "All-SPAL" basketball teams.

The mechanics of the selection are pretty formal; present for the selection were six scribes and an "umpire."

The umpire's services were hardly needed this time, since many choices were unanimous. All selections were made in a period just under two hours.

The newshound's spy in the Kiwanis club has some reasons he thinks some of his fellow members should pay fines:

Ron Ferguson has had a new automobile since last October, and hasn't been fined for it. It's suggested that he be assessed—and that all those finemasters who didn't levy on him be assessed, too.

George Angus spent Tuesday morning at the Hall of Justice and Records in Redwood City, looking in on the courts and the county board of supervisors.

"Nothing going on," he reports, "Even the criminals are being quiet."

Operators at the Menlo Park Sanitary District sewage treatment plant think they have some sort of a record.

It rained out there every day for the 16 days ending Feb. 20, they say, which is a pretty long stretch for the edge of the bay. It rains more in other parts of town, though.

Wonder of wonders!

In Woodside, which we think of as a stronghold of Republicanism, we hear tell of a $100-a-plate dinner scheduled May 19 at the Pioneer Hotel for Democratic faithful.

It's being held by a wealthy Hillsborough man, who, we understand, recently switched his party allegiance.

The Woodside Drama Guild has ambitious ideas for future productions, we learned this week .

The fledgling group was scheduled to meet Tuesday night to discuss a host of meaty suggestions, including Greek tragedy.

The amateur thespians, now a solo group, were originally launched as a Woodside Elementary School PTA activity.

SOLENOID FAILS

A solenoid on a clothes drier at a home at 90 Irving Ave. in Atherton short circuited Monday at 1:04 p.m., resulting in a call to firemen, but no damage.

Municipal Report:

Dump District Board at Work

Probably one of the most essential public service agencies in this area — and one which runs about as unobtrusively as possible — is the South San Mateo Garbage and Refuse District.

It serves the county south of Belmont, with the exception of Atherton.

Such an area can produce an awful lot of refuse in the course of a year; it all has to be disposed of in an unobjectionable, sanitary and economical manner.

For the first couple of years of the operation of the district, there were troubles with an incinerator which was supposed to dispose of all garbage in a "smog free" manner. Then, there was a series of underground fires which occurred shortly after the district went to a "fill and cover" operation.

There hasn't been much news from the dump district for the past couple of years, though, indicating that it has been operating in a trouble-free fashion. Its tax rate has been cut and this indicates efficiency, too.

Still the trustees of the district, under the chairmanship of Menlo Park City Councilman Ira Bonde, meets every month in Redwood City and, having nothing much to complain about, try to figure out new methods of increasing the efficiency of their operations at dumps at the northern extension of Marsh Road and in Belmont.

The minutes of a recent meeting of the district's board of directors will help show how they occupy their time:

"Director L. C. Reynolds reported (that he and others) appeared before the Menlo Park city council to discuss the city's proposed Flood Plain Zone proposal. (He) stated that the (district) program would be carried on in the future under no less high standards than it is today.

"It was reported further that a better understanding was achieved concerning the manner of administration and interpretation of the contents of the use permit."

(The city's proposed "flood plain" zoning would have made the dump at Marsh Road a "permitted use." Dump officers had questioned the propriety of this.—ed.)

"Chairman Bonde related to the board discussions he had with the mayor of Atherton.

"It was pointed out that members of the City Council of Atherton expressed general approval of becoming part of the district but requested additional information . . .

"The board . . . authorized the district manager to reproduce the annual audit and other documents necessary and forward them to the city of Atherton . . .

"The district manager reported on the need for repairs to the undercarriage of the D-8 (tractor) . . .

"On motion . . . the board . . . unanimously authorized the office of the district attorney to proceed with necessary legal action to transfer from the district fund to the appropriate court the sum of $1561.-63. Such funds were withheld from the Disco Corporation in accordance with withhold notices.

"This action will permit the funds to be distributed to the claimants in accordance with appropriate legal provisions."

(The Disco Corporation operated the incinerator that didn't work.—ed.)

"The district manager noted that the annual audit had been mailed . . .

"The first revised monthly financial report was submitted. It was noted that the Marsh Road and Belmont revenues exceeded expenditures during January . . .

"The district manager reported that with the greater portion of taxes already received the reserve funds now total approximately $103,000. It was recommended the county and the Peterson Tractor Co. be paid off and approximately $50,000 be invested in short-term bonds . . .

"On motion . . . the board of directors unanimously directed the district manager to prepare resolutions for payoff of county loan and Peterson Tractor Co. Further, a resolution will be prepared authorizing investment of certain district funds for a prescribed period to be determined by the board . . .

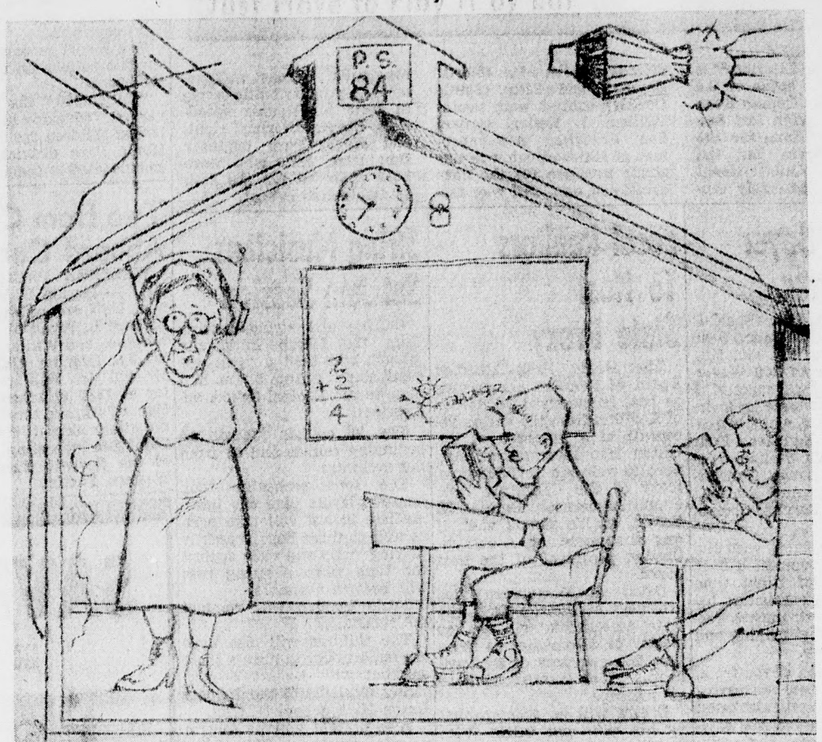

"Director Reynolds called to the attention of the board complaints he has received of papers blowing near the freeway in Belmont . . ."

This was attended to also.

That's a rough summary of the set of minutes of one meeting of the refuse and garbage disposal district board.

As noted above, it's a quiet operation, but that doesn't mean its board of directors haven't been busy men.

Newsman Notes 25th Year

By FLOYD F. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

As we mark our silver anniversary of the Redwood City Star Advertiser (then the Redwood City Standard) it is interesting to look back at the old files and do a little reminiscing. We took over the weekly Standard in mid-February 1937.

Coming off a daily (the Colusa Sun-Herald) we had the idea as most do, that getting out a paper once a week would be a life of leisure. The 25 years have been anything but that ;in fact the "boss" (wife Lililan) and I have not missed an issue in those 25 years and the job has taken its toll. The balding head (on me, that is) and a general slow-down were not in the "life of leisure" as it was supposed to have been.

Looking back over the years, there are probably many steps that we would taken had we had foresight and not hindsight but believe us, it has been a most pleasant 25 years.

The friends we have made are countless and priceless; the manner of living we found here was far beyond expectations, and the small part we have played in the civic, cultural and political life of the area has been most rewarding. We didn't expect to become rich when we came here and so we are not disappointed in that respect.

Redwood City and San Mateo county were having their problems in those days, just as they are now. Looking at the issue of Feb. 26, 1937, we see the headline "Supervisors Appoint Rolison County Executive."

The now retired manager of Redwood City came off the job with the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington, D.C., to take the new appointive job as county executive. There is another story "California Pacific Title and Trust Company to spend $50,000" enlarging its headquarters at Broadway and Hamilton. The city paid its respects to John Gill, 54, superintendent of the district schools. A devoted civic and educational leader, he died at the St. Helena Sanitarium.

Looking on we find that the board of supervisors announced plans to form a county safety commission and instructed District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell to draw up the suitable ordinance.

The Redwood Improvement Association was formed, with Charles H. Holt as manager and one of the prime objectives was to open up Stambaugh through to Jefferson Avenue. Major W. H. Edmonds was elected commander of the County Veterans Council. Sequoia High was presenting its "Varieties" with such stars as Bob Mannin, Harry Killpack, John Dusel, Connie Varneck, Gerene Allsberry, Helen and Caroline Grant and others. The Y. Mori nursery in San Carlos was hit by a $2000 fire.

In the March 19 issue headlines noted the death of ex-County Clerk Mrs. George Kneese, who had held office from 1919 to 1931. Charles I. Dimmitt was named "permanent city manager" of Redwood City. James P. Hagan was named manager of the Bank of America here. And on March 26 the Standard reported 2.88 inches of rain over the previous weekend with much flooding in the downtown area. Mayor Paul A. McCarthy spoke at the annual public relations dinner of the local Business and Professional Women's Club.

On April 30, 1837, we find this interesting headline: "Dr. C. C. Gans (county health director) Defends Budget Raise" from $204,670 to $267,561.

The story: "Any housewife can appreciate what this department is faced with when she considers her own problem of maintaining her accustomed standard of living in the face of a rising commodity market income when the family income does not increase accordingly."

Sounds familiar today. In that same issue was an account of the now famous county squabble that led to the election of Col. Frederick Peterson as county manager. Peterson was teamed up with then Councilman Evans A. Fletcher of Redwood City in getting the supervisors to place a charter amendment on the June ballot to make the executive's job elective.

Peterson won and then came some of the most troublesome years in the county's history. Finally the voters put up with this setup long enough and voted to make the job appointive as it remains today.

Our 25 years in Redwood City have gone rapidly and we express sincere thanks to our many friends that have made them possible.

Navy Encourages Technical Grads To Enlisi Now

Mid-Peninsula graduates of vocational and technical schools now may qualify for enlistment in the U.S. Navy and be assured that their skills will be utilized during their enlistment.

Ths announcement was made here this week by recruiting officer Raymond E. Wilson, Chief Damage Controlman, of Menlo Park.

Previously, according to Wilson's announcement, this program has been available only to graduates of regular academic courses.

The move, Wilson said, is considered essential to keep pace with the rapid specialization within the Navy and to give recognition to skills acquired by graduates of these schools. Many technical schools now provide instruction that is compatible with training provided in class "A" or basic Navy service schools.

Qualified applicants enlisting in this program will be screened by Navy personnel counsellors and assigned a "striker" or apprentice rating in one of the Navy technical fields most closely aligned with his training.

This will ensure his assignment directly into his chosen field either afloat or ashore immediately after graduation from recruit training.

Further information may be obtained from Chief Wilson at the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station, County Courthouse, Redwood City, EM 8 3148.

25 Years Ago:

Sign Boards Seen Here As Menace

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

February 19, 1937:

From the editorials:

There seems at this time to be a growing sentiment in favor of the removal of all sign boards, both real estate and other varieties, within the city of Menlo Park. The city planning commission is to be complimented on the stand it has taken in this matter and for the effort that its members are putting forth to accomplish the end in view, "The Beautification of the City of Menlo Park and making it a better place to live in."

As the Recorder pointed out last week, and still believes, the removal of these sign boards is one of the greatest safety measures that can be adopted. The detracting of drivers' attention for a second may mean the life of a child or grown-up in this city, and we ask, is the $5 or $10 per year derived from the signs a compensation for a life that may be sacrificed, or for a permanent injury that may be in curred?

Considering the matter from the standpoint of the greatest good for the greatest number of people the billboards and sign boards should be removed and that at once.

Charles Burton President Of Atlas Copco

Charles E. Burton, 42, has been named president of Atlas Copco, Inc., United States member of the world-wide Swedish-headquartered construction, mining and industrial equipmetn organization, Atlas Copco AB.

Announcement of Burton's new position, to be effective April 1, was made by K. A. Belfrage, managing director of Atlas Copco AB.

Burton established Atlas Copco's first U.S. company in 1950 here on the Pacific Coast with offices in San Francisco. In 1952, the company moved to San Carlos, where present offices and warehouse facilities are located.

Prior to his affiliation with Atlas Copco, Burton was associated with a number of major international construction companies including Morrison-Knudsen Co. and H. J. Kaiser Co. He spent a number of years in Brazil in a supervisory capacity on key construction projects.

Burton is a civil engineering graduate of Stanofrd University. His wife is the former Jane Miner of Weiser, Idaho. They have two children and make their home in Menlo Park. He is a member of the Stanford Club of Palo Alto, the Oakville Terrace Club, and Menlo Park Presbyterian Church.

SUNDAY PROGRAM

The physical training program of the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs will be featured on a national televised "Sunday Sports Spectacular," according to Elmo Hayden, Lieutenant Colonal in the Air Force Reserve and area liaison officer for the academy.

The Readers Speak:

THANKS FOR HELP

The Recorder always welcomes letters from its readers on any subject of public interest. Within the limitations of available space, all such letters will be published as received so long as they do not violate decency and good taste and provided they are signed.

Editor, the Recorder:

May I take this opportunity to thank you for the publicity given to our March of Mothers. Your cooperation was an important part of the success of our March.

I would also like to thank the city chairman, the area chairmen, and the many marching mothers, fathers and teenagers, who by their time an defforts have helped the "New March of Dimes" to continue in their work.

ORDINANCE NO. 365
An Ordinance Calling a Special Municipal Bond Election in the City of Menlo Park for the Purpose of Submitting to the Electors of Said City the Measure of Incurring a Bonded Indebtedness of Said City for the Acquisition, Construction and Completion of the Following Municipal Improvement, To Wit: Community Activities Building, Declaring the Estimated Cost of Said Municipal Improvement, the Amount of the Principal of Said Indebtedness To Be Incurred Therefor, and the Maximum Rate of Interest To Be Paid Thereon; Making Provision for the Levy and Collection of Taxes; Fixing the Date of Said Election, the Manner of Holding the Same, Providing for Notice Thereof, and Consolidating Said Special Municipal Bond Election With the General Municipal Election To Be Held on April 10, 1962.

WHEREAS, the City Council (hereinafter called "the Council") of the City of Menlo Park by resolution duly passed and adopted at a meeting of the Council duly and regularly held, by affirmative vote of more than two-thirds of all its members, did determine that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction and completion of the municipal improvement hereinafter mentioned, and did further determine that the cost of said proposed municipal improvement will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said municipality and that said municipal improvement will require an expenditure greater than the amount allowed therefor by the annual tax levy, and will require the incurring of a bonded indebtedness therefor, which resolution was duly entered on the minutes of said meeting of the Council, and is now on file and of record in the Clerk's office of said City; NOW, THEREFORE,

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MENLO PARK, does ordain as follows:

Section 1. A special municipal bond election be and is hereby ordered and will be held in the City of Menlo Park (hereinafter called "the City") on Tuesday, April 10, 1962, at which election shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the City the question of incurring a bonded indebtedness of the City for the object and purpose set forth in the following measure, to wit:

MEASURE SUBMITTED TO VOTE OF VOTERS

MEASURE: (Community Activities Building) Shall the City of Menlo Park incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $450,000 for the acquisition, construction and completion of the following municipal improvement, to wit: A community activities building to provide meeting rooms for public assembly, including recreational facilities, reading rooms, kitchen facilities, land and site improvements, furniture, fixtures, apparatus and all other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for a community activities building for public assembly purposes of the City of Menlo Park?

The estimated cost of the municipal improvement as set forth in said measure (including legal and all other fees incidental to or connected with the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds evidencing the indebtedness proposed to be incurred for such municipal improvement and the costs of printing said bonds and all other costs and expenses incidental to or connected with the issuance and sale of said bonds) is the sum of $450,000 and the amount of the indebtedness proposed to be incurred for said municipal improvement is the sum of $450,000.

Section 2. The Council does hereby submit to the qualified electors of the City at said special municipal bond election said measure set forth in Section 1 of this ordinance, and designates and refers to said measure in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at said election.

(a) Said special municipal bond election shall be held and conducted, and the votes thereof canvassed, and the returns thereof made, and the result thereof ascertained and determined, as herein provided; and in all particulars not prescribed by this ordinance, said election shall be held as provided by law for the holding of municipal elections in the City.

(b) All persons qualified to vote at municipal elections in the City upon the date of the election herein provided for shall be qualified to vote upon the measure submitted at said special municipal bond election.

(c) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7:00 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 7:00 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(d) Said special municipal bond election hereby called shall be and is hereby consolidated with the General Municipal Election to be held in the City on April 10, 1962, all as required by and pursuant to law; and the election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the City for said special municipal bond election hereby called shall be the same as those selected and designated by the Council for said General Municipal Election by its Resoltuion No. 1671 entitled "RESOLUTION AND ORDER OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MENO PARK DESIGNATING CONSOLIDATED ELECTION PRECINCTS AND THE POLLING PLACES THEREOF, APPOINTING ELECTION OFFICIALS AND DESIGNATING ELECTION BOARDS, FIXING THE COMPENSATIONS OF SAID OFFICIALS, DIRECTING THE CLERK TO ADVISE SAID OFFICIALS OF THEIR APPOINTMENT, AND DETERMINING THE HOURS BETWEEN WHICH THE POLLS SHALL BE OPEN FOR A GENERAL OR REGULAR MUNICIPAL ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE CITY OF MENLO PARK ON TUESDAY, THE 10TH DAY OF APRIL, 1962." passed and adopted on February 20, 1962, to which resolution reference is hereby specifically made for a designation of the precincts, polling places and election officers of the special municipal bond election hereby called.

(e) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said General Municipal Election and said special municipal bond election hereby consolidated therewith, which, in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon, shall state the measure set forth in Section 1 hereof. Where ballots are used at said election each voter vote for said measure hereby submitted and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall stamp a cross (x) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" on the ballot to the right of said measure, and to vote against said measure and against incurring said indebtedness shall stamp a cross (x) in the blank space opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of said measure. On absent voter ballots the cross (x) may be marked with pen or pencil. Where voting machines are used at said special election the said voting machines shall be so arranged that any qualified elector may vote for the measure by pulling down a lever over or opposite the word "YES" under, opposite or near the ballot label containing a statement of the measure placed on the voting machine and said act shall constitute a vote for the measure, and may vote against the measure by pulling down a lever over or opposite the word "NO" under, opposite or near said ballot label on the voting machine, and said act shall constitute a vote against the measure. Said voting machines and the preparation of the same shall comply in all respects with the provisions of law, and each of said voting machine shall have placed thereon a ballot label setting forth the measure hereby submitted to the electors.

(f) The returns of said election shall be made out and signed by the election officers and shall be by them deposited with the City Clerk, together with the ballots cast at said election; and the Council shall meet at its usual meeting place and canvass said returns on Tuesday, the 17th day of April, 1962 (the first Tuesday after said election) at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. and declare the result of said special municipal bond election and the result of said General Municipal Election.

Section 3. The Council proposes to issue and sell bonds of the City for the object and purpose, but not exceeding the amount specified in said measure, if two-thirds of the qualified electors voting on such measure at said special municipal bond election shall vote in favor of said measure.

Said bonds shall be negotiable in form and of the character known as serial, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six (6) per cent per annum, payable semiannually (except that interest for the first year after the date of said bonds may be made payable at or before the end of said year). Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows: At the time of making the general tax levy after incurring the bonded indebtedness, and annually thereafter until the bonds are paid or until there is a sum in the treasury set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all payments of principal and interest on the bonds as they become due, the Council of the City shall levy and collect a tax sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds and such part of the principal as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; provided, however, that if said bonds are authorized to be issued at said election, and it is expected that all or any part of said bonds will be sold at such time that the principal of or interest on such bonds will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied after such sale would be available to pay such principal or interest, the Council, at the time of fixing the annual tax levy, may levy a tax in an amount clearly sufficient to pay that portion of the principal of and interest on said bonds which it is expected will become due before the proceeds of the next succeeding tax levy will be available. If the earliest maturity of the bonds is more than one year after the date of issuance, the Council shall levy and collect annually a tax sufficient to pay the interest as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal on or before maturity. Such taxes shall be levied and collected as any other City taxes and shall be in addition to all other taxes and shall be used only for payment of the bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 4. The City Clerk of the City is hereby directed, upon the passage and adoption of this Ordinance, to publish the same once a week for two (2) weeks in the MENLO PARK RECORDER AND GAZETTE, which is a newspaper of general circulation published less than six (6) days a week in the City, and such publication shall constitute notice of said election. No other notice of the election hereby called need be given.

Section 5. This ordinance shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the Council and in the Ordinance Book of the City. This Ordinance, being an ordinance calling and ordering an election, shall take effect from and after its final passage and approval.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 27th day of February, 1962, by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen: Anderson, Bonde, Payne, Mayor Lawson.
NOES: None.
ABSENT: Belangie.

/s/ WILLIAM R. LAWSON

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the general election for officers, to be held in the Menlo Park Fire Protection District on April 3, 1962, will not be held.

Only one person, George H. Tuft, Incumbent, has filed nomination papers for the position of fire commissioner becoming vacant this year. No petition signed by five per cent (5%) of the qualified electors in the district requesting that the general election be held, has been presented to the Board of Fire Commissioners.

THEREFORE, in accordanee with law, the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, at a meeting to be held prior to April 3, 1962, will appoint said George H. Tuft to said position for a three year term to expire in April, 1965.

GEORGE W. DAVIS, Commissioner
Secretary of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Menlo Park Fire Protection District.

OBITUARIES

William Gilmore

William G. Gilmore of Atherton, noted area sportsman and founder and president of the Gilmore Steel Co. of San Francisco, was buried Friday following death at his home at 69 Isabella Ave. last Thursday.

Gilmore founded the steel company in 1926 and saw it develop into one of the largest independent steel firms in the west. Besides heading that firm, he was president of Oregon Steel Mills of Portland, a subsidiary, and served on the boards of directors of several other firms .

Much of his personal and business assets have been transferred to the William G. Gilmore charitable foundation.

Gilmore was a champion polo player and a member of the U.S. Polo Association, the Menlo Circus Club and the Thunderbird Country Club of Palm Springs.

He was the owner of the Loma Rica ranch at Grass Valley, where he maintained a stable of race horses and was a principal owner and officer of both Golden Gate Fields and Tanforan race tracks.

He was a native of San Francisco and was a member of the Olympic and Bohemian clubs in that city.

Gilmore, who was 59, is survived by his wife, Grace; two daughters, Mrs. Mackall Jason and Mrs. Frederick Knoop, both of Atherton, and by eight grandchildren.

In addition, he is survived by five brothers.

Private funeral services were conducted from the N. Gray & Co. funeral home in San Francisco.

Henry Roskamp

Services were conducted Friday for Henry Roskamp, retired Oregon building contractor who passed away at his home, 1049 Noel Drive, on Feb. 21.

Roskamp, who was 74, came to Menlo Park 15 years ago from Klamath Falls, where he had been a contractor from 1920 until that time.

A native of Sutter, Ill., he was a member of the First

Three Injured As Patrol Car Crashes

A California Highway Patrol car, speeding to the scene of a reported suicide attempt, last Thursday collided with an auto driven by another party on the Dumbarton Bridge approach.

Two highway patrolmen and the driver of the second car involved were injured, the civilian, a janitor at Stanford, critically.

The would-be suicide, meanwhile, was grabbed by other officers and prevented from leaping off the bridge.

Injured critically and placed in the Palo Alto-Stanford hospital's intensive care unit was Iwan I. Haidai, 52. His westbound auto was hit head-on by a patrol vehicle occupied by CHP Officer Ralph N. Brown, 33, of Newark and Officer Ben J. Donahue, 44, of Mountain View.

Haidai was treated for skull fracture, multiple fractures of both legs, and internal injuries. The Highway Patrol conceded that their emergency vehicle, with red lights flashing and siren wailing, may have been in Haidai's lane.

Meanwhile San Mateo County Sheriff's deputies John Alexander and G. S. Schmorde reached the scene of the reported suicide attempt and grabbed James O. Morris, 22, of 1946 Pulgas Ave., East Palo Alto.

The highway patrol car was speeding to the scene of the suicide attempt in response to a call for aid which the deputies had put out before they got Morris under control.

The accident occurred at about 8:30 p.m. at a point about 362 feet east of the Dumbarton Railroad cutoff, on the western approach to the bridge.

Sanitary District Awaits Report On Which to Base Fee Structure

A report on which the Menlo Park Sanitary District will base its fee structure for apartment house areas in the Sharon Heights area is expected next week, District Board of Trustees Secretary George Angus reported yesterday.

The report also will be used as a guide in the setting of connection fees for Project M installations south of Sand Hill Road.

Angus reported that Ed Wells, representing Stoen and Youngberg, San Francisco financial consulting firm, said at the trustees' Monday meeting that a report should be completed by the end of this week or early next week.

The firm has been agreed upon by the sanitary district, Sharon Heights developers and Stanford interests as the proper analyst.

Angus said that the report to be submitted also might be used as a guide for other district operations in the future — such as how to finance expansion of the district's sewage treatment plant when and if that becomes necessary.

Representatives of Project M also were present at the meeting. They requested information on a hookup from the headquarters of the installation, to district mains.

Discussion indicated that 2500 feet of pipe would be used for the link from their administrative complex to existing mains along Sand Hill Road. There had been some discussion of possible connections to the district's main along Alpine Road.

Angus said it was likely that the Stone and Youngberg report will contain a couple of alternative proposals on future financing — which must be done either by bond issue, connection fees, or taxation.

Communicable Disease Rate Low in January

No serious outbreaks of communicable diseases were reported from the south county during January, the San Mateo county health and welfare department's regular monthly morbidity bulletin indicated this week.

This was not the case further north. Forty-two cases of chicken pox were reported during the month in Belmont, while Redwood City reported 43 cases of streptococcal infection and San Mateo reported 40 cases of the same disease. San Mateo also reported 56 cases of mumps—indicating a heavy outbreak.

In Menlo Park, by contrast, the following incidences of disease were reported: two cases each of infection gonorrhea and syphilis and one case each of mumps, salmonellosis, strep infection and tuberculosis.

East Palo Alto reported two cases of gonorrhea and one case each of strep infection and tuberculosis.

Woodside reported four cases of strep infection and one case of chicken pox.

The county health department emphasizes that reports become more accurate as incidence of any disease grows; sometimes, doctors fail to report individual cases of communicable diseases.

Mrs. Marie Mudra Speaker at Meet

Mrs. Marie Mudra, Menlo Park teacher and author of several books for younger readers, will be a guest speaker at the VA librarians' conference to be held at the Palo Alto Veterans Administration Hospital on March 8 and 9, according to Dr. John J. Prusmack, hospital director.

She will describe the program of lectures, workshops, demonstrations and exhibits which has been developed in the hospital libraries under the sponsorship of the VA Friends of the Library, Lloyd V. Rogers, chairman.

Valley Church Begins New Youth Program

James C. McCluskey Jr., recently named first student assistant to Rev. H. George Vorsheim, will begin a new series of high school youth meetings this Sunday for the Valley United Presbyterian Church in Portola Valley.

The initial social and discussion get-togethers will be held each Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Fred Ballentine home, 265 Laning Drive, Woodside.

McCluskey began his part-time youth director work for the church last Sunday with an 11 a.m. Christian education class for the high school age group. The sessions will be held each Sunday in the Portola Valley Elementary School music room.

Now a middler at the San Francisco Presbyterian Seminary in San Anselmo, McCluskey will stay at the homes of various church members during his weekends in the valley.

Organization Seats 1962 Officers, Reps

Sumi Sumida was seated as 1962 president of the Palo Alto Buddhist Church Junior Fujin Kai recently in San Carlos, and a number of local members were named to official posts.

Also installed were Etsu Yano, vice-president; Haruko Nakamura, second vice-president; Yo Doi, recording secretary; Alice Sato, corresponding secretary; Etsuko Kofu, assistant corresponding secretary; Mae Tsutsumi, treasurer; Janet Yonemoto, assistant treasurer; Grave Mayeda, publicity chairman; Mary Matsuura, religious chairman; Chiyo Sukekane, Minako Kawauchi, Tsuruko Nakanishi, coordinators; Alyce Yasumoto, Miyako Kumagai, Lorraine Hirotsu, welfare committee; Emi Hamai, librarian.

District representatives were also chosen.

East Palo Alto representatives will be Ruth Kameda (head), Sally Nakai, Michiko Matsuno, Julie Tanaka, and Hisako Nakano.

From Menlo Park are Dorothy Takato (head), Chizu Sakaguchi and M. Matsukado.

Aid Woman, 60, With Resuscitator

Firemen used their resuscitator to aid a 60-year-old woman in breathing early Sunday, after she apparently was overcome because a poorly ventilated room in which she was sleeping was being robbed of oxygen by a furnace.

The woman, Mrs. A. Anderson, of Minnesota, later was taken to Sequoia Hospital.

She was a guest at the home of Olaf Aune, 3139 Middlefield Road.

At 5:55 a.m. she was heard to fall fro mher bed, the firemen were told. The Aunes called the firemen.

ELECTRIC CHAIN SAW . . . . . is newest addition to Woodside Fire Protection District this week thanks to Woodside Firemen's Assn. Accepting gift at left is Fire Chief John Volpiano. Demonstrating saw is Antone Silvera, chairman of gift committee. Others are William Wilke, volunteer fireman, and Louis Gass, president of the association. The saw was purchased with proceeds from the group's annual dance held last summer.

Repairs Okayed For Pump Unit

Sanitary District trustees Monday night authorized approximately $660 worth of repairs to the district's pumping stat on at Henderson and Hamilton Avenues.

The repairs are necessary, the trustees said, because motors got wet during recent rains and burned out.

The pumping station is at a low point along the district's Belle Haven interceptor line and speeds effluent on to the district's treatment plant at the northeast end of Marsh Road.

New Cleaning Shop Opens

Area residents will no longer need to trek out-of-town with their "do it yourself" cleaning. Today marks the grand opening of the Menlo Coin Cleaners at 824 Santa Cruz Ave. with opening festivities slated to run through Saturday.

Owned and operated by Vance Popelka, the establishment features B-W Norge units which dry clean anything that is drycleanable in 45 minutes. The clothes are then ready to wear.

Located between University Drive and Crane Street, the building has a lounge for customer convenience and will have in attendance at all times Neil Mitchell, state licensed dry cleaning operator, to assist patrons with advice and instruction in spotting and dry cleaning. Any item which cannot be cleaned on the premises will be referred to a professional dry cleaner.

School uniforms cleaned in the evening will be ready to wear the next day, said Popelka, and cottons remain fresh and new-looking when cleaned rather than washed.

$100 Damage In Basket Fire

Damage estimated at $100 resulted early last Thursday when a waste basket full of combustible material ignited at Ken's House of Pancakes, at 855 El Camino Real here.

Firemen said somebody apparently put a lighted cigaret stub in the container, which was itself combustible.

A booth was scorched and the tile floor of the restaurant damaged, the firemen said.

They were called to the restaurant at 1:44 a.m.

Local Nurses Are 'Capped'

Two East Palo Alto women were among 15 graduates of the College of San Mateo's vocational nursing program who were "capped" Monday at Hillsdale High School.

They are Mrs. Dorothy D. Hurley and Mrs. Helen L. Kerrigan.

The traditional ceremony was conducted by Evelyn Crowley, chairman of the college vocational nursing program. Instructor Saralu Fenzi made the presentation of pins.

Woodside Fire District Gets New Chain Saw

The Woodside Fire Protection District has its first electric chain saw this week.

The direct drive saw recently presented to Fire Chief John Volpiano by the Woodside Firemen's Association will be especially valuable for cutting fire trails in the district's predominantly wooded area. Previously, firemen have relied on hand saws and axes for such trails.

The $215 saw was purchased with proceeds from the association's annual dance held last August. In past years the firemen have supplied the district with two resuscitators and a skill saw, and next summer they hope to earmark dance funds for a self-contained breathing apparatus for firefighting.

Chief Volpiano said the chain saw will also minimize work and damage in cutting through roofs and walls to achieve ventilation.

12 Priory Boys Make Honor List

The Woodside Priory, boys prep school in Portola Valley, this week announced the names of 12 students who made the academic honors list for the first semester of the 1961-62 school year.

High honors went to Norton Batkin of Redwodo City with a 4.00 average and William Quirk of Atherton with a 3.84 average.

Others include Andras Ssaplar of Santa Fe Springs, Gene O'Grady of Palo Alto, Thomas Lemos of Menlo Park, Christopher Shea of Redwood City, Robert Dougherty of Pasadena, Thomas Wade of Portola Valley, Ludwig Binko of Berkeley, Stanley Weichert of Portola Valley, Richard McCoy of Redwood City, and Harold McElhinny of San Mateo.

Stamp Collection To Be Displayed

The International Red Cross stamps collection of Jack Mathison, Palo Alto member of the Sequoia Stamp Club, will be shown in part at three peninsula locations during March observances of Red Cross month by the Golden Gate Chapter of Red Cross.

The Mathison stamps, which date back to pre-World War I years, will be on display at the Menlo Park library from March 26-31 as a special display for the Friends of the Library.

The Mathison collection demonstrates the European method of raising revenue for social agencies by placing a sur-tax on the postage stamps. Stamps usually picture children, humanitarians, royalty, Clara Barton or Henri Dunant, American and Swiss founders of the American and International Red Cross.

TAKING 'BASICS'

LAKEHURST, N. J. (Special) — James L. Cosgrove, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Cosgrove of 1321 University Drive, Menlo Park, is attending the 19-week basic course of the Aerographer's Mate School at the Naval Air Technical Training Unit, Lakehurst, N.J.

Lindenwood Hit:

Atherton Police Seek Clues In Weekend Burglary Series

Atherton police this week were still reckoning up the loss in a series of burglaries in Lindenwood during the weekend.

They also were seeking more information about a well-dressed man driving an expensive sports car, who Saturday evening was inquiring the location of a fictitious addressee in the area. He, according to Police Chief Leroy Hubbard, might have been locating unoccupied houses for the burglars.

At one home the burglars made off with an estimated $5350 worth of furs, jewelry and other items; at another, they took some silverware. The latter was later recovered in a vacant lot in San Francisco.

First house discovered to be burglarized was the Charles P. Eddie home, 123 Hawthorne Ave. The gardener found a rear window to have been broken Saturday morning.

Chief Hubbard said that the family is in Europe, and that it appeared most of their valuables were in storage. It did not appear that anything had been taken, he said.

The same morning, patrolling officer James Burke discovered a door open at the Ralph Harris residence, 168 Hawthorne Drive.

Owner Harris arrived home from Palm Springs later in the day and said after examining his ransacked home, that silver services and flatware of a distinctive pattern was taken. It was monogrammed, he said.

FOUND LATER

The silver was reported found in a vacant lot in San Francisco on Monday morning, according to Chief Hubbard. Its description had been teletyped to all points during the weekend.

Then at 10 p.m. Saturday night the William Reillys returned to their home after an evening out, to find that a $3000 mink coat, a mink stole valued at $1000, and a couple of other fur pieces had been taken.

Also missing was $500 worth of jewelry, a transistor radio, a man's watch valued at $75, a $300 ring and other fur pieces. Total value of loot taken was estimated at $5350.

Monday morning the police received a call from 99 Linden Ave., where a maid discovered that the Harry Vaughn home had been burglarized. She found a window had been broken, she told police.

Chief Hubbard said the well-dressed man in the sports car had been seen by one resident, of whom he inquired for a non-existent resident he said he thought lived in the neighborhood.

This is a standard procedure among burglars for locating unoccupied house, the chief said.

He added that residents should always call the police when accosted by such suspicious individuals.

Hershel Makes Academy Honors

U. S. AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo.—Cadet Ronald S. Hershel, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hershel, 131 Azalia Drive, East Palo Alto, has been named to the Dean's List for academic excellence at the Air Force Academy.

The cadet is a 1960 graduate of Ravenswood High School.

KQED Honors Classroom At O'Connor

O'Connor School sixth graders taught by Mrs. Frances Buchold were singularly honored last week.

They are the first Ravenswood City School District students ever selected to receive "Classroom of the Week" honors from the "Exploring the News" program on educational television station KQED.

The program producers hold competition every week to determine the honor.

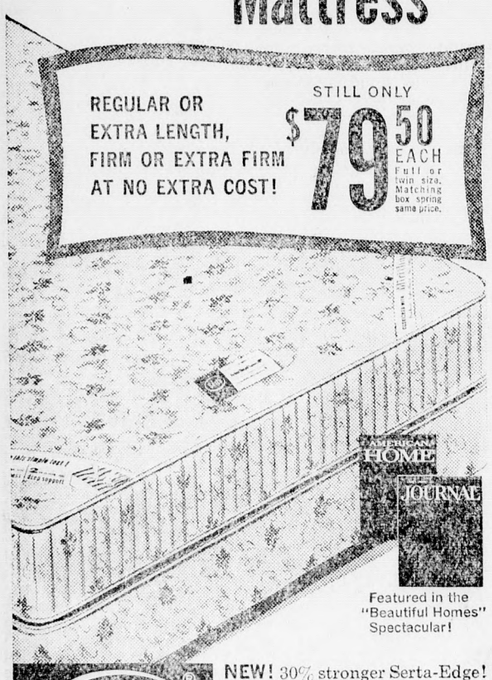

The award was for "outstanding achievement in analysis of current events," Principal Sherman Garber said.

The program is one of a number of KQED educational telecasts which students in Ravenswood District schools utilize.

Crane Gets 'Coach of Year' Hands Down

A team that probably could hold its own with any past all-South Peninsula Athletic League varsity basketball squads—with punch enough to get out front or enough to come from behind—was decided upon this week by area prep sportswriters.

The SPAL was loaded with good ballplayers this year, as anyone who's seen a game has gathered.

There were some standouts, of course, which made it easy for the scribes to select the first team. It took just one ballot to select Ravenswood's Nate Branch, Sequoia's Jeff Cudworth, Cubberley's Ray Gale, Palo Alto's Frank Tarrantts and Menlo-Atherton's Eddie Phillips, with Branch, Cudworth and Gale coming in unanimously and Tarrantts nearly so.

Master Cudworth also was a unanimous choice as Player of the Year. The unbelievable 6-1½ junior had several things going for him for the honor. He led league scoring leaders with 333 points, a 23.8 average in 14 games. He led rebounders with 205, a 14.6 average. It was his accuracy that propelled Sequoia into a surprising second-place finish, in a tie with M-A. He also hit a season high single-game scoring mark of 39 points, against Cubberley. And to top that off, he already has obliterated every SPAL career scoring record on the books (997 points) and still has a year to go. Also, Jeff is the only repeat choice from the 1961 all-SPAL varsity first team.

Ravenswood coach Tom Crane's efforts made it easy for the writers too. The new Coach of the Year, the only coach left in the league who handles both the varsity and B teams, came in with two championships. His C and D basketball championships from the fall gave Tom the only clean sweep of all four basketball crowns in SPAL history. The writers' choice again was unanimous and made Crane the first Coach of the Year to come from Ravenswood in any sport.

Branch, a junior phenom on the floor and on the boards, was the league's second-high scorer with 213 points and was among the top ten rebounders. Nate might have done better statistically had he not been surrounded by a group of rangy ball players who could almost duplicate his feats. An honorable mention in '61, Branch is the first Ravenswood player ever to make the first team.

Tarrantts, a 6-4 senior center, and Phillips and Gale, two small but fast and exceedingly accurate-shooting guards, earned their spots by keeping their teams in game after game. Phillips was a major factor in the Bears' second-place finish. Whenever Paly or Cubberley won a game, Cubberley's being rated mostly as upsets, it was Tarrantts or Gale who led them. All three were among the top league scorers all year.

The second team presented more problems because of the huge choice. None were unanimous, but four — Ravenswood's Clifton Grandy, Woodside's Mike Gilman, M-A's Dave Olerich and Carlmont's Rick Brown—were "in" on the first vote.

Palo Alto's Craig Ritchey got on on the third ballot, joining Gilman for a repeat performance from their 1961 second-team placings.

The scrap and hustle of Ritchey and Brown, the rebounding and shooting of Grandy and Gilman and the overall excellence of Olerich's showing made this club one of the closest in ability to the first team the SPAL has ever had in all-league choosing.

The honorable mentions were close too, with all having been considered for higher spots. Center Charley Wade and forward Bill Wright, who made the rest of the M-A machine go, Ravenswood's picturesque and highly accurate mite Milky Johnson and Sequoia's ace floor leader Larry Bishop got the honorable plaudits.

Last-place San Carlos, playing varsity basketball for the first time, placed no one. The writers felt that the Dons' inexperience and the depth of the rest of the league was too much against them.

Phillips, Tarrantts and Olerich were first-team B choices last year.

WITH TOO MANY . . .
. . . trophies to hold himself, South Peninsula Athletic League basketball Coach of the Year Tom Crane gets help from pretty Dianne Sipple, Ravenswood High's basketball queen for the "Play of the Sleigh Fun Night" slated for Hillsdale High March 10. The four trophies will be presented officially by Dianne to Crane for winning all four SPAL cage titles this year (varsity, B, C and D). They'll be awarded during ceremonies at Hillsdale. The "Fun Night" is to promote a snow trip for mentally-handicapped children of San Mateo County.

Washington's Birthday Tourney:

Hillview Gets into A Final

Final round of Menlo Park Recreation Department's sixth annual Washington's Birthday Eighth Grade Basketball Tournament will be spread all over Saturday, with something pretty close to a capacity crowd expected for the championship battles at Menlo-Atherton High School gym.

Both "A" and "AA" classification consolation games will start the day off, with Oak Knoll School of Menlo Park meeting Encinal of Atherton in the A playoff at 9 a.m. The San Carlos Recs and Burlingame meet for the AA consolation at 10.

College Park of San Mateo and Madrone of Sunnyvale tangle for the AA third-place trophy at 11, with La Entrada of Menlo Park and Woodside vieing for the A third spot at noon.

The championship finals, pitting the only unbeaten teams left, will start at 7 p.m. with the A decider between Hillview of Menlo and Crocker of San Mateo. Borel of San Mateo and Goodwin of Redwood City clash in the AA title game at 8:30.

First round games were played last Thursday and semifinals Saturday.

Thursday's class A action found Crocker beating Encinal 18-14. Eric Westly was high for Crocker with five points. Lynn Jackson got six for Encinal.

Hillview nipped Las Lomitas 18-13, with Jeff O'Neil getting five for the winners. Happy Wotila netted nine for Las Lomitas. Oak Knoll edged by Woodside 17-15, with Dave Young heading the Oak Knollers with ten digits. Dave Menefee paced Woodside with six.

Ted Shreve's 12 points led La Entrada to a 24-18 pasting of St. Joseph's. Tom Farrell scored nine for the losers.

In AA games, it was Madrone 23, Burlingame 18; Goodwin 23, Covington 9; College Park 43, Benner 21; and Borel 24, San Carlos 22. Borel's Buddy Titus was high AA scorer with 19 points.

In Saturday's A semis, Crocker advanced to the finals by disposing of La Entrada 25-17. Chris Park led Crocker with 14 points, including six free throws in the fourth quarter. Shreve again was high for La Entrada with ten.

Hillview gained the other championship playoff spot with a 17-16 squeaker over Woodside. Jeff Breener was the hero, sinking two free throws with no time left on the clock to give Hillview the nod. Al Klein was high scorer for Hillview with eight markers. Chris Hansen and Greg Ward each got six for Woodside.

Oak Knoll eliminated Las Lomitas with a humiliating 19-4 setback, with Colby Howe potting ten for the winners. Encinal did likewise to St. Joseph's, coming out on top 20-15. Neuru Bruce was high for Encinal with eight points. Farrell had nine for St. Joseph's.

Borel got into the AA finals with a stunning 32-27 upset of College Park, handing the San Mateans their first loss in 37 games. Borel's Bob Cookson did most of the damage, hitting three straight 30-foot set shots and a free throw in the last quarter to put Borel out front to stay. Cookson was high scorer with 15. Peter Boyko led College Park with 12.

Paul Cignetti got nine and Ken Bruicerood eight to take Goodwin to a 27-14 win over Madrone and get the Goodwins into the battle against Borel for the AA title.

Burlingame advanced to the consolation playoff with a 25-19 decision over Covington, Dean Joost getting ten for Burlingame. San Carlos got the other consolation spot by ripping into Benner 22-12. Rick Brandenburg had seven for San Carlos.

Tonight:

M-A AWARDS

Tonight is the night for fall and winter sports awards at Menlo-Atherton High School. The M-A Dads' Club dessert banquet starts at 7:30 p.m. in J building on the school campus.

Menlo Park Recorder Athletic Endeavor Awards will be presented by Recorder publisher Clarence A. "Cab" Burley. Recipients will be the top athletes, as selected by their coaches, in varsity, frosh-soph and frosh football, varsity and frosh-soph water polo, C and D basketball, varsity and B basketball and wrestling.

Invitations have been extended to members of the Sequoia Union High School District Board of Trustees, the local police and fire chiefs, and area sportswriters.

A Nasty Jurisdictional Mess Is Brewing

It's a little early to be thinking about summer baseball but this year at least it looks like there'll be a cloud on the silver lining for the Babe Ruth and Little League national organizations.

It seems that Little League, Inc. has been expanding into the 13-15 year-old bracket with "senior leagues" in direct competition with the Babe Ruth leagues. There's trouble brewing in San Leandro over the duplications, but that's as close as it has come to the Peninsula so far.

It has reached serious enough proportions, however, that Babe Ruth national headquarters sent out a letter this week denouncing the Little League move, saying "In this democratic world of ours, we do not approve of nor enjoy the possibility of a pending monopoly. Young ballplayers should be allowed to 'graduate' from one league level to another level, distinctly separated by name and affiliation."

Now it would seem that two youth baseball organizations, based on the premise of developing boys into young men and depending on the volunteer help and good will of their respectice communities, could find some better way of settling their differences besides verbal battles in public.

There'll be no such trouble in Menlo Park, however. American Little League president Les Grimes and Babe Ruth president Eugene Kerwin both emphasized this week that there wouldn't.

Grimes said he had gotten a questionnaire from LL headquarters, in which he had answered that because of Menlo Park's good Babe Ruth organization it wouldn't be advisable to move LL senior teams in here. "All they're thinking about is boys graduating from Little League," Grimes said. "We're on very friendly terms with the fine Babe Ruth organization here. We have no expansion plans at present and probably never will."

Kerwin and the local Babe Ruth League want no public squabble at any cost. Kerwin said he couldn't alter the official feeling of national BR headquarters but added that the letter of condemnation definitely did not reflect the thoughts of the local league.

Now let's bury it and hope it stays buried.

The Babe Ruthers have their own problems right now. Needed are three more coaches for the coming summer. Having just expanded from eight to 12 teams, there are openings on two of the new central Menlo Park clubs and one replacement—Larry Becker has left the Lowe Realtors and gone into the Palo Alto Little League as a coach.

Interested prospective coaches should contact Kerwin at his home, DA 3-5584 or office, DA 6-0103, or John Browning at DA 5-3188, or write to Babe Ruth League, P.O. Box 74, Menlo Park.

One more baseball note: Babe Ruth, Little League, high school and rec coaches are invited to come out Saturday morning at 10 to a demonstration of three new pitching machines at Woodside High School field. The Woodside Boosters are buying one for the school from proceeds raised from thier highly-successful spaghetti feed in January and are shopping around.

Woodsiders Work on Track Debut

Question marks, weather and delays have marked the progress of Woodside High's 1962 track teams, laboriously trying to round into shape this week for a season-opening three-way practice meet with Aragon High of San Mateo and Woodside Priory Tuesday at the Woodside High oval. Meet time, if coach Joe Greggans is ready to go by then, will be 3:15 p.m.

Greggans said this week that he hoped that the good depth he thinks he has in his B and C teams will help what so far has been a so-so varsity showing. Only discus and hurdles veteran Rich Saunders has been impressive among the varsity cindermen so far.

But a look at some of the lightweights gives Greggans hope that they can be moved up to varsity events with little strain. Jim Huff, a B 1320 man, probably will be doing the varsity mile most of the year ,the coach said. Freshman Ed Graves, a new transfer and C 660 runner, looks promising enough to tackle either the varsity or B distance jaunts. Greggans currently is casting about for some others.

Sprinters Jim Dando and Dan Dempsey, the Wildcats' C sprint standouts last year, have moved up to the Bs, as have John Green and Mark Johnson. The B 660 should be handled capably by Brian Hea, another C veteran.

Hurdler Lee Schiff, 330 and shot putter Pete Pardee, 660 runner Ed Lehanek and sprinter Steve Nelson give the Wildcats a good C nucleus, Greggans said. All are returning from last year's Cs.

The weather has been a problem, Joe noted, with the Wildcats getting hung up on time trials and weighins besides being thrown behind on conditioning.

At San Mateo Tuesday:

Cat Mermen Splash Off Season

With only three seniors but many, many promising underclassmen, Woodside High swimming coach Boyd Mickley figures his Wildcats are going to get only better as time goes on. Particularly the varsity, to which he'll move up some of his more promising Bs in some events this coming season.

The Mickleymen will get into the swim of it in a practice meet with San Mateo High at San Mateo Tuesday, starting at 3:15 p.m. Next Thursday Sequoia visits Woodside for the first South Peninsula Athletic League meet of the season.

"The varsity should be a little better than last year," Mickley said, "but the league looks better too." The Cats finished third in the varsity race last season, the Bs second and the Cs, fielding only six swimmers, away down there. The Bs last to Palo Alto by one point, their only setback.

Sprinter Don Roth, sprinter and middle - distance man Chuck Abraham and breaststroker Galan Rathbun are the only seniors the varsity sports. Roth and Abraham are the only varsity returnees.

A flock of juniors, namely butterfly and freestyler Art Kauffman, breaststroker Gary Fitschen, sprinter Nick Cummings, backstroker Jack Schinkle, form the hard core of the varsity, with diver Dan Tehaney and middle distancer Al Kamada expected to come up from the Bs to help out.

The soph-laden Bs, because of their lack of experience, are still somewhat vague as to capabilities, but former Cs Jan Davis, Bill Fairbanks and Jerry Andrews, all sprinters, lend optimism off their practice times.

The Cs, with lots of freshmen to choose from for a change, also show signs of hope. Greg Meacham, a breaststroke man, and Brian Kane, a good stroker but also good at the butterfly and freestyle, are the most impressive of these so far.

PBT At-Large:

LOS ALTOS

Los Altos High was named to fill the "at-large" Peninsula Basketball Tournament berth, Tuesday by the PBT committee, meeting at Menlo-Atherton High.

Naming of Los Altos brought to seven the number of teams definitely in the seven-league playoff tourney, to be held at Stanford Pavilion March 15-16-17. Logan of Decoto and San Jose finished the East Santa Clara Valley Athletic League race in a tie last week and will play off to determine the champion tomorrow.

Other teams certified Tuesday have their championships won. They are, with leagues in parentheses: Ravenswood (South Peninsula Athletic League), Sunnyvale (North SCVAL), Campbell, (West SCVAL), San Mateo (North Peninsula League), Gilroy (Coast Counties B Division) and St. Elizabeth's (Catholic Athletic League).

Los Altos finished second in the North SCVAL last week. The North and West SCVAL have never had an at-large entry in the PBT. Menlo-Athetron also was under consideration, having come in second in the SPAL, but has gone to the tourney the past two years.

Saints Keep HS Loop Command

Menlo Park Recreation Department's high school basketball league teams go into the second games of the second round next Wednesday night, with the Saints firmly in control at the top of the standings. The seven-club loop opened the second round last night but results weren't available by presstime.

Last week the Saints nipped their closest rivals, the Rebels, 63-62, staving off an 18-point Rebel rally in the last period. Bruce Morningstar led the Saints with 24 points, 11 of them in the first quarter. Ernie Berg led the Rebels with 23. Pete Klein (21) and Ron Montoro (15) were next high for the Saints and Rebels, respectively.

The Muskrats downed the Solexes 50-40, with Craig Cochrane netting 16 and Bill Bonnat 15 for the winners. Skip Gindraux got 16 for the Solexes.

The 91-43 score the Raiders ran up over the Tigers in 40 minutes of basketball would seem highly impressive, but the Tigers had to use three substitutes for the original starting five, which under the league rules costed them ten points per substitute. The Raiders did run up 61 points through the hoop, with Steve Hughes sinking 21 of them and John Kemp 18. George Davis, one of the Tiger subs, led the losers with 12, with regulars Tom Donnelly and Randy Burke adding ten apiece.

Next Wednesday's schedule: Saints vs. Raiders, 7 p.m.; Jets vs. Tigers, 8; Rebels vs. Muskrats, 9. The Solexes draw the bye.

Pretty Well Scattered:

Nobody Dominates B Cage Selections

No new precedents popped up with the 1962 all-South Peninsula Athletic League class B basketball teams, selected by the area sportswriters this week.

The Bs are a fast, tall, good shooting group, but with no one school dominating the choices as Menlo-Atherton did last year in placing all five starters somewhere in the picks.

Far from it this time. The closest parallel is Cubberley's three honorable mentions, the only Cougars to be named. Ravenswood, Woodside, M-A, Sequoia and Palo Alto each netted two players on the mythical squads and Carlmont one.

As in the varsity pickings, San Carlos wasn't represented but for different reasons. The Dons had no particular standouts and played a well-balanced game — good enough to finish in a tie for third place with Woodside but with no one player leading the way consistently.

Ravenswood's Bob Bracy and Ken Fujihara both landed on the first team to give the Trojans domination there. Bracy, along with Woodside's Dennis Samansky, was a unanimous choice. Fujihara was on the 1961 all-SPAL B second team and was the only repeater back this year. M-A's Marc Maloney and Palo Alto's Bill Thomson filled out the first team which took three ballots to complete.

Samansky was the leading B scorer with 185 points in 14 games. Thomson was seventh in total scoring with 115, although playing only 12 games. Bracy was fourth high with 144 in 14.

Carlmont's Ray Prara was a unanimous second-team choice, with M-A's Bobo Wallace, Paly's Dave Bonnette and Sequoia's Ray Jacop making it on the first ballot. It was the sixth ballot before Woodside's Steve Clark was decided upn.

The second team had more scoring potential, with Prara second among league scorers with 163 points, Jacop third with 158, Clark sixth with 131 and Bonnette eighth with 114, but also in just 12 games.

Cubberley's Rich Taylor, Nate Kimura and Steve San Jule and Sequoia's Jerry Bowers made up the honorable mention list. Taylor was the high B scorer for much of the season, finishing fifth with 142 points.

Dismal Season Finish:

Acorns Bow Twice to CSD

CSD took advantage of a cold 1962 basketball season Tuesday on a sour note, dropping its second Bay Counties Athletic League game in four days to California School for the Deaf, 54-38 at Menlo's ancient basketball palladium.

CSD to kadvantage of a cold first half to eke out a 56-55 decision at Berkeley Friday. Menlo's final BCAL record is 4-10 and 7-11 for the season.

A 6-3 sophomore jumping-jack center named Don Lyons made a mess of things for the Menlos Tuesday, scoring 31 points and seizing 22 rebounds. The Acorns were without 6-4 center John Garling, out with two bad ankles, and had no one to replace him who could handle the sharp-shooting Lyons.

Ned Spieker, subbing for Garling, shared Menlo scoring honors with Tim Pickering — each getting 10. Spieker also led Menlo with 16 rebounds, although CSD out-grabbed the Acorns overall 50-32.

They were tied 10-10 after one quarter, but CSD's hotter shooting and Lyons' rebounding took them to a 26-17 halftime lead. CSD hit 37 per cent of their shots to Menlo's 27 per cent.

Although coach Reynolds Crutchfield's Acorns shot nearly 50 per cent in the second half Friday they found a 29-19 CSD halftime bulge too much to overcome. Lyons got 23 rebounds in this tussle and Ben Evans netted 22 points for the winners.

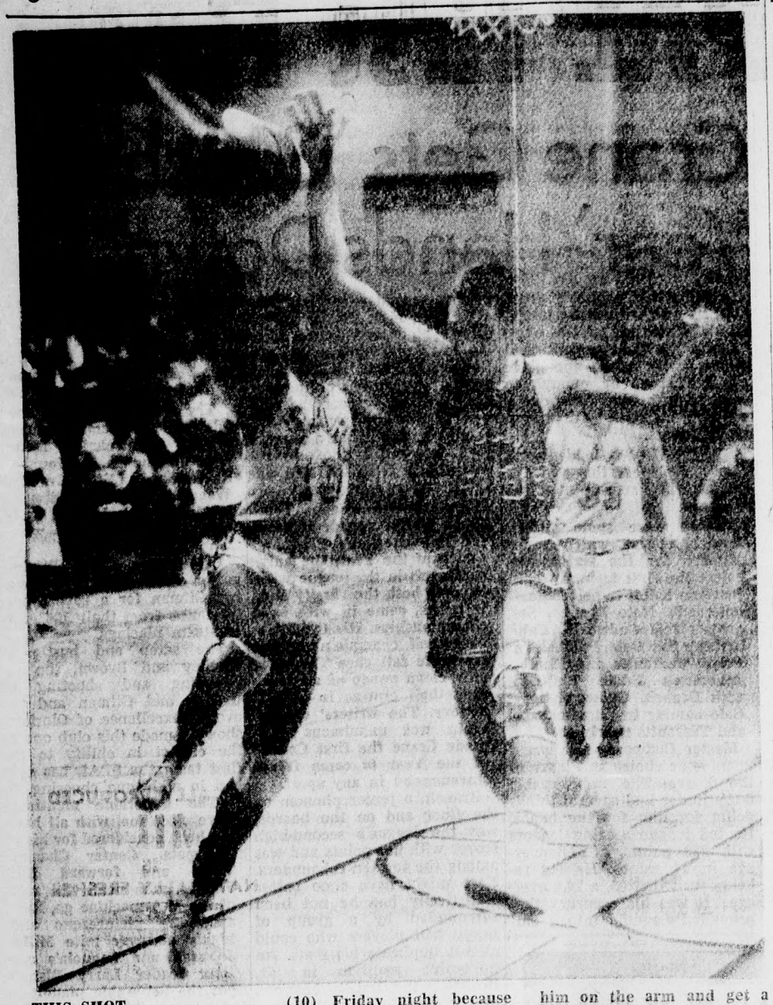

Garling and Tom Fulton paced Acorn scorers with 14 points each and Spieker hauled in 14 rebounds.

Menlo's JV won two from CSD in the prelims both days, downing the Berkeleyites 39-37 Friday and 32-15 Tuesday. Tom Harmon got 13 for the little Acorns Friday and John Kellam led the way with 15 Tuesday.

MENLO STATS ..... REC ....

GARLING CAPTAIN

Senior center John Garling has been elected honorary season captain of the Menlo School varsity basketball team, coach Reynolds Crutchfield has announced.

THIS SHOT . . . . . didn't go in for Menlo-Atherton's Eddie Phillips (10) Friday night because San Carlos' Don Quigley (43) came roaring through to hit him on the arm and get a foul called on him. M-A won easily 51-27.

Long-Armed Bandits:

Bears End It With a Blast

How do they do it? The Menlo-Atherton High Bears looked like champions in their South Peninsula Athletic League season finale Friday night, they've won their last six games, including wins over the champ (Ravenswood) and all the contenders, have drawn the raves of everyone who's seen them — and still they finished second in the final standings.

The last installment of this year's near-miss was a 51-27 bludgeoning of the last - place (1-3) San Carlos Dons at M-A casaba cage before a large, delighted crowd that saw the Bears pull every stop and show everything they're capable of.

It's too bad that sickness cut down the Bruins in midseason. The four SPAL games they lost were by a total of seven points. But five of the victories also have been decided by five points or less. The Bears tied with Sequoia this time for second spot, both with 10-4 SPAL records. The Bears' season record culminated at 15-4.

M-A has never finished below third in an SPAL basketball race, but thanks to one mishap or another has never won a championship either.

Ah, but for a chance to go back and do it all over. They had "top dog" written all over them Friday night.

Coach Bill Loftus' charges stomped out front at the beginning and never were threatened seriously.

Big 6-4 center Charley Wade hit his season peak of effectiveness in all departments, including some nobody was looking for, particularly the unnerved San Carlans.

Charley teamed up with little guard Eddie Phillips to lead the scoring parade, following Phillips' 19 with 16 of his own. He also plucked down 16 rebounds, high for the game, and led a second-half M-A defensive effort of blocked shots and stolen passes that turned the Don offense into a joke.

The Bears led 30-13 at halftime. San Carlos made its only move in the third quarter, closing the margin to 34-23 with 2:11 left of the period. It ended there, however, when M-A forward Bill Wright hit two free throws and a jumper to start them off again.

Another high spot defensively was John Black's defensive work on the Dons' big but controllable Ken Griffone, who led Don pointmakers with a paltry ten points.

Griffone's field goal that started the fourth period only started an 11-point M-A deluge before the Dons got any more. Wade got four, Dave Wagner had four and Phillips three in that streak.

The Bears had little difficulty on the backboards with Wade in there, piling up a 52-28 advantage. They also outshot the San Carlans from the floor, 303 per cent (20x66) to .266 (13x50). The Loftusmen also kept their hands to themselves in a clean ball game, with the officials awarding the Dons only five free throws.

Trojans Humble Cats in 2d Half

It took a tough halftime talk by coach Tom Crane to do it, but the Ravenswood Trojans engineered a 55-41 victory over the Woodside Wildcats at Ravenswood last Wednesday that nailed down their first-ever South Peninsula Athletic League varsity basketball championship.

Ravenswood socked Woodside with 14 points in the first quarter while limiting the Wildcats to a layup by Mike Hall and Bruce Steckel's foul shot.

Milt Dickerson, senior guard who played a top ball game, swished six of Ravenswood's first eight points with Branch also hitting a long jump shot. Jimmy Fields, who started the game, popped a jumper on a" fine screen play and Grandy wound up the quarter with a pair of goals.

Then, the Trojans seemed to ease up after extending the margin to 18-3 early in the second quarter on shots by Branch and Dickerson.

In the space of a few minutes, Woodside bounced back to trail by only 18-14, as Dick Burke broke loose for eight points. Woodside closed the gap steadily as Gilman took over the boards and Burke's jump finally knotted the score at half time at 22-all.

After the half-time session, the Trojans were ready to play ball again, although Hall's jumper gave Woodside a brief 24-22 lead — their only one of the game.

Then baskets by Dickerson and Art Crum — and two by Johnson — put Ravenswood ahead to stay. Woodside pushed to within two points at 34-32, but Grandy's set shot hit for a 36-32 lead after three quarters.

Ravenswood controlled the ball nicely in the fourth period, allowing Woodside only three field goals while local players — especially Fields — were cashing in on charity tosses.

Burke led all scorers with 14. Dickerson and Johnson topped Ravenswood with 12 each in the big one while Branch tanked 11. Fields hit eight and Crum and Grandy added six apiece.

SRI Keeps Industrial Record Intact; Ends Tuesday

Stanford Research Institute had its closest call of the Menlo Park Recreation Department Basketball League season Tuesday night, narrowly squeezing by second-place Eimac 32-31 at Menlo - Atherton High School gym.

Dick Jones of Eimac led all scorers with 12 points, all in the first three quarters that kept the game close. Randy Irwin's five points in the fourth quarter kept Eimac breathing down SRI's neck. Irwin ended with nine points, along with SRI top scorer Roger Stringham. Jack Pennick got seven for the winners.

Lenkurt Electric moved into a second-place tie with Eimac with a 41-27 lacing of Watkins & Johnson. John Paolucci poured in eight points in the fourth period to take scoring honors for Lenkurt with 12. Dale Thompson added seven to the Lenkurt total. Dick Possispil had nine for W&J and Gary O'Leary got six.

Ampex won a forfeit victory over Link Aviation in the other scheduled game.

The Industrial cage season ends next Tuesday night. Ampex meets Watkins & Johnson at 7, Link takes on SRI at 8 and Lenkurt plays Fairchild at 9. Eimac drew the bye and finished for the season.

SRI has had the league title put away for some time and is four games ahead of the pack. The standings: SRI 11-0, Eimac 7-4, Lenkurt 7-3, Fairchild 5-6, Ampex 5-6, Watkins & Johnson 2-9, Link 1-10.

M-A Seizes Second Cats Tie for Third

M-A 42,
SAN CARLOS 33

Menlo-Atherton's hard-charging Bears wrapped up a surprising and impressive second-place finish in the South Peninsula Athletic League B basketball tussle Friday, humbling the third - place San Carlos Dons 42-33 at M-A gym.

Winning seven of their last eight games, coach Lee Meggitson's Cubs finished at 9-5 in the SPAL and evened their season mark at 9-9. The Bears also captured the league defense team laurels, allowing opponents 532 points in 14 games for a 35.6 per game average.

It was another case of coming from behind against the Donlets Friday. Marc Maloney led a second-quarter rush with eight points that erased an 11-10 Don lead and put the Bears in front 21-16 at the half.

They were threatened only once when San Carlos closed to 26-25 in the fourth quarter, but Bobo Wallace and Neil Orem hit two free throws apiece and John Hofferd layed one in and the locals were out of the woods from then on.

Maloney and Rod Pommes each scored 13 to pace the Bear assault. Orem had seven. Jim Saarinen led the San Carlans with eight points, followed by Greg Martin and Marty Rednan with seven.

The Cubs compiled a .310 per cent (14x45) success record on their floor shots, easily outdistancing San Carlos' mediocre .257 (10x39). Pommes' six rebounds also led the Bears to a 26-21 advantage in that category.

WOODSIDE 51,
RAVENSWOOD 35

With the SPAL title already sewed up, the Ravenswood starters didn't come in until the second quarter last Wednesday but by then it was too late and the Woodside Wildcats blitzed them 51-35 to tie Menlo-Atherton for second place.

The Cats finished with a 9-5 SPAL record and 12-7 for the season. The Trojans were 10-4 in the SPAL and 14-5 overall.

Dennis Samansky and Gary Ott led the way with ten points each in the massacre, although Ravenswood's Bob Washington led all scorers with 12. Steve Clark and Dave Roots added nine apiece for the winners.

OAK LEAF MOLD

Gathering oak leaf mold from its natural setting can be a pleasant but potentially dangerous pastime. The danger lies in the good chance that you might transport spores of the oak root fungus into your garden. This can be the beginning of the end for some of your favorite garden ornamentals, so it's often far better to buy "clean" leaf mold by the sack from a nursery.

Gaining Popularity:

Comedia's 'Doll's House' Is Good Monday Fare

Comedia Repertory Company's Monday Evening Series of classical and experimental plays is getting more popular all the time, with a full house greeting Henrik Ibsen's well-known "A Doll's House" last week. Comedia in return proved that although there's no admission charge there's still everything to gain and nothing to lose by seeing it.

Eric Silins put on a polished performance as Torvald Helmer, the cautious, domineering husband. Brigita Silins, his real-life wife, was equally outstanding as Nora, his stage wife, who tries in vain to help her husband but in despair finally leaves him.

Bill and Lorraine Huelsenkamp, another husband-wife team, were Nils Krogstad and Mrs. Linde respectively. Both were antitheses to the ultra-conservative Helmer and carried off their parts very well. Huelsenkamp got stronger as he went while Mrs. Huelsenkamp began at a high pitch and maintained the pace throughout.

Don Conti was a rather matter-of-fact Dr. Rank and Patricia Noble was Anna, the children's smiling and unbowed nurse. Lori Huelsenkamp and Maija Silins also went theatrical with both sets of parents as the two Helmer youngsters.

The rich costumes by Jayne Dungan and Jo Miller added much color and authenticity to the play. Huelsenkamp did the settings, which were appropriately subdued for a living room in the 1870's.

"A Doll's House" caused quite a stir in 1879 with its plea for women's rights and personal freedom. Today we take these things for granted, but the play itself has lost little of its meaning or dramatic impact. —By John Curry

M-A Players Ready 'Torchbearers'

Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10 have been set for the Menlo-Atherton High School Players Club production of "The Torchbearers."

Written in 1922 by George Kelly, it was an instant success on Broadway, although there was doubt it would become a staple item in amateur theater, which it satirizes. But little theater, college and high school groups embraced it wholeheartedly because everyone in the cast can identify himself sympathetically with the characters of the play.

Cast as the temperamental director is Harriet Becker. Others playing important roles are Bill Keating, Jack Stephens Terry Rose, Will Ackles, Cheryl Dean, Mike Morris, Sandy Donovan, Jean Wood, Nancy Heidenreich, Susan Mason and Susan Rhodes.

The production is under the direction of Mr. Lew Karcher. Other faculty advisors are Mrs. Patricia Backus, production coordinator; Mrs. Lew Karcher, lighting and sound; James Dunn, set dressing; Miss Ann Boss, costumes; Douglas Stobie, tickets and ushering; Corning McKennee, programs and posters; Phil Thompson, make-up; Mrs. Mildred Briggs, program content; and Charles Mendoza, publicity.

Student committee chairmen are Joella Collier, makeup; Merrily Gross, publicity; and Ida Allen and Jeanette Eisler, properties.

The production will be presented in J building on campus, starting at 8:30 p.m. both nights. Tickets will be available at the door.

Fuchsia Society Meets Tuesday

Next regular monthly meeting of the Santa Clara Valley Branch of the American Fuchsia Society will be held Tuesday evening at 8 in the South Palo Alto Library, 2300 Wellesly St.

Vice President Tom Oliver will give a talk and demonstration on "Pruning and Repotting Fundamentals." Oliver also is president of the San Mateo Garden Center.

Up and Down:

Oaks End Cage Season at Monterey Tomorrow

Coach Jack Rowley's Menlo College basketball troops will take their last crack of the season at Coast Conference opposition tomorrow night and at the same time be making an effort to stay in fourth place in the tightly-packed race when they travel to Monterey Peninsula College for an 8 p.m. clash. The Oaks' current CCJC record is 7-6.

The Oaks have been having their ups and downs over the past three games. Last Tuesday they bowed to second-place Foothill College 72-66 at Menlo but came back Friday at the home court to overturn first-place San Jose 75-68. Then they hit the skids again, losing to Diablo Valley College 67-64 Tuesday night at Concord in what Rowley called "a real down ballgame for both teams. It was the worst Conference game we've played this year."

Diablo netted five straight free throws at the start to maintain a slim lead throughout. Menlo's glaring ineptitude rose to fever pitch once when the Oaks threw the ball away on bad passes six straight times.

Kent Hinckley led Menlo scoring with 17 points and Jim Fitzwlison got 12. Sam Croston led the Vikings with 20, with Tom Nichols adding 16.

Menlo's 6-9 center Steve Fruchey hit the hoop for 28 points in pacing the Oaks over San Jose. Hitting 68 per cent of their second-half shots, the Oaks opened up a 34-32 halftime lead to ten points halfway through. Fruchey's 28 all were field goals. Hinckley was second with 15 and Bob Mee had 13.

Henry Rapp paced San Jose with 14 digits. The Jaguars were hampered by 1961 all-State selection Eddie Sims' ankle injury, which kept him out much of the time.

They came close several times, but after Foothill cracked their zone defense there wasn't much chance of the Oaks catching the Owls. Jack Gleason led the Owl assault with 21 points. Hinckley got 20

Amid SPAL Setbacks:

Banducci Loses in NCI Matfest

Menlo-Atherton High's previously undefeated heavyweight wrestler Russ Banducci was the victim of a disputed pin and had to settle for third place to leave the South Peninsula Athletic League almost empty-handed in Northern California Invitational wrestling championship honors at San Jose State College gym Saturday.

Banducci captured third place in the finals by decisioning Sunnyvale's Jim Garza, whom he had defeated the week before on his way to the North Coast Section southern division title.

But Banducci was tripped up in the semifinals by Oakland's Jom Porter, who went on to win the heavyweight championship. Porter got Banducci in trouble and apparently pinned him, the referee slapping the mat to so signify.

The ref then reversed his decision on grounds that there may have been an illgal hold involved. Porter's coach protested, charging that the referee couldn't change his decision once made, so the original pin stood.

Ravenswood's Greg Taylor won his first 103 match, decisioning Bill Morgan of Oakland Tech to gain one point, but then lost to eventual runnerup Tom Thomas of Oakdale and Abel Gutierrez of Cupertino, who finished fourth.

Ravenswood's other representatives, Hank Gonzales (112), Gary Shouse (133) and Ted Walker (145) dropped their first two matches and were eliminated early.

Hayward and Cupertino tied for the team title with 49 points each. M-A finished with seven and Ravenswood one. Sequoia and Cubberley also represented the SPAL but didn't score.

Sports Fans Plan Dinner For Cage Teams

A Sunday afternoon barbecue for Ravenswood High basketball coach Tom Crane and members of his four championship basketball teams is being considered by a group of interested local sports fans — but they need more help before plans can be made official.

All interested persons — especially parents of the ball players — are urged to attend an 8 p.m. meting Monday in the school staff room.

Suggestions will be heard and subcommittees formed at that time.

The dinner, which would be held later this month, would honor the varsity B, C and D basketball squads who took all of the SPAL titles in 1961-62.

A good representation of team members' mothers and fathers is being sought for the Monday night organizational meeting.

MENLO ACE LOSES

Top-seeded Ron Preissman of Menlo College was upset by Doug Sykes of the University of California 6-3, 6-2 in the finals of the freshman-junior college division of the Northern California Tennis Tournament in San Jose Saturday

HOW'D I GET HERE? . . . "You Can't Take It With You," Ravenswood High's term play being offered Friday and Saturday at J building, is loaded with comic sequences—such as the above. On the deck is Richard Lawhern, a stuffy businessman who becomes involved with a zany household—the one his son may marry into. It seems Jim Reece, being restrained by Paul Ambrose (left) and Ron Smith, was merely giving him a wrestling lesson.
—Recorder photo

TOP BOWLER . . . in the recent "Strike for Dimes" bowling tournament, sponsored by the South County March of Dimes committee, was Ed Pericou (left). First prize was a three-day expenses-paid trip to Las Vegas. Mrs. Valerie Morey (right) of Menlo Park, the Dimes presentation chairman, made the first-prize award to Pericou at the conclusion of the tournament, held at Mel's Bowl in Redwood City. Tournament story is on page 9.

Ravenswood High Play to Open 2-Night Run

Life as it's lived by a lively family of non-conformists — that's the theme of "You Can't Take It With You," a three-act comedy which begins a two-night run Friday at Ravenswood High School.

There's an 8 p.m. curtain for the Friday and Saturday performances.

Van Dietz, RHS drama instructor, urged all Ravenswood students to reserve Friday or Saturday night for an evening of laughs.

"Adults will enjoy themselves, too," Dietz said.

Tickets cost $1 for adults, 75 cents for students from other schools or Ravenswood students without SB cards, and 50 cents for those with RHS student body cards. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

Tom Turner, who scored heavily as a comic actor in "Arsenic and Old Lace," the play staged last year at Ravenswood, will be back as Grandpa Vanderhof, the leader of the eccentric clan.

Pat Toner, another "veteran" of the boards at Ravenswood, will also be featured as Penelope Sycamore, the gentle artistically-inclined and not very practical mother of Alice Sycamore, portrayed by Deanna Davis.

Alice falls in love with Tony Kirby (Paul Ambrose), scion of a stuffy, stocks-and-bonds kind of family.

The clash between a family that does as it pleases and the high-society Kirbys provides the plot line.

The other featured performers: Joyce Potter as Essie Carmichael ,the oldest daughter who always wears ballet shoes; Leslie Fields as Rheba, the Sycamore family maid; Dona Spradling as Mrs. Kirby, Tony's mother, who is something of a society snob; Mary Raw as Olga Katrina, a regal woman who is a part of the Sycamore household; Richard Lawhern as Mr. Kirby, a successful broker with ulcers; Ed Bellinger as Paul Sycamore, Penny's husband; Jim Reece as Boris Kolenkhov, the ballet teacher; Loren Due as Donald, Rheba's boy friend; Jim Klawin as Mr. Depinna, another habitue of the household; Ron Smith as Ed Carmichael, Essie's husband; and Steve Henderson as Mr. Henderson, Internal Revenue agent.

Three FBI agents are played by Don Fala, Wayne William and Jim Grace.

Berdina Hart and Carol Morgan are the student directors assisting Dietz.

CSM Drama Groups List Coming Plays

Operations of the College of San Mateo Players Club and drama department will be expanded during the spring semester, according to director Ronald Weidman of the college faculty. In addition to the usual single production of a major play, the groups will offer two other works.

The Players Club will sponsor a College of San Mateo and University of Santa Clara faculty production of T. S. Eliot's "The Cocktail Party" March 23.

Readings have been held for "The Glass Menagerie," which will be the College Players first arena production. Playing the role of Amanda in the popular Tennessee Williams play will be Donna Winston of Menlo Park. Miss Winston was active in drama presentations at Menlo-Atherton High School and in the Players Club. Playing Amanda's daughter, Laura, will be Sheila Clark. Amanda's son, Tom, will be played by Richard Shapero. Completing the cast will be Bob Nichol as Jim, the gentleman caller.

The play, now in rehearsal, is scheduled for two weekends, April 6-7 and April 13-14. It will be staged in the lobby of room 11B on the Coyote Point campus, chosen because it offers ideal dimensions for arena theater. The acting area will be the center of the lobby, with audience seating of approximately 90 persons at the four side of the building.

For the final phase of the spring drama offerings, the department will offer a convention theater production of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman," which will be staged at the Baldwin auditorium for three performances on May 17, 18 and 19.

Tonight:

'Night Flight' in Stanford Debut

Baritone John Robert Dunlap will sing the lead role of Riviere in the American premiere of "Night Flight," a contemporary opera by Luigi Dallapiccola, slated by the Stanford Opera Theater in Dinkelspiel auditorium today, tomorrow and Saturday and March 8, 9 and 10.

Dallapiccola's libretto, based on the novel "Vol de Nuit" by Antoine de Saint-Exupery, provides a dramatic scene from the pioneer days of commercial flying. The story is set in Buenos Aires in 1930.

Riviere, the airline's director, enforces night flights. The night plane for Europe is waiting for three mail planes to arrive. One of them crashes and Riviere seems to be defeated, but in spite of this he orders the plane to start for Europe.

The dramatic scene is set in the airline office with Pellerin, a pilot telling of his flight and a wireless operator giving the account of the missing pilot's plane crash.

Also singing in the production will be Orva Hoskinson, Gretta Harden, Patrick Daugherty, David Giosso, Henry Gibbons, Walter Moore, Richard Jaqua, Theodore Teows, James Kerans and Martha Krug.

Paul Hindemuth's "There and Back" will be a curtain-raiser on the same program. The short musical farce will be sung by Hoskinson, Miss Harden, Duniap, Giosso, Daugherty and Diana Bischoff.

The operas are being conducted by Sandor Salgo, violinist and director of chamber and orchestral music at Stanford. Robert Loper is director and Harold Schmidt is chorus master.

Tickets are available at Dinkelspiel box efifce, DA 6-3691, from 12:30-4:30 p.m. weekdays or at Peninsula Box Office, DA 2-2122.

Comedia to Travel With 'Seesaw'

The Comedia production of William Gibson's bittersweet comedy "Two for the Seesaw" has been booked for two special performances. The play ran on Broadway for over two years starring Henry Fonda and Anne Bancroft in the two character play about a lonesome Nebraska lawyer who finds a few months of love and happiness with a Bronx girl.

The production's first performance was presented as a benefit for the Smith College alumnae's scholarship fund. The group plans to present another benefit on March 24, opening "Bells Are Ringing."

On March 14 the production will travel to the Naval Air Station at Moffett Field for a special performance for the Commissioned Officers' Club. For this performance the production will be restaged so that it can play in the round.

The production features Carolyn Davis in the role of the Bronx girl, Gittel Mosea, and Jim Wolf in the role of Jerry Ryan, the Nebraska lawyer.

"Two for the Seesaw" currently is playing on Friday evenings at 8:30 at the Comedia Theater, 1300 El Camino Real in Menlo Park.

More Camellia Winners Named

More Menlo Park residents have been listd as winners in the recent All-Camellia Show sponsored by the Peninsula Camellia Society in Redwood City.

E. P. "Woody" Passinetti, though a comparative beginner at camellia culture, was awarded four blue ribbons ,five red ribbons and there white ribbons for his entries.

Robert F. Hansel was "Show Photographer" and his wife, Sue-Ann, assisted Passinetti in making corsages of some of the finest camellias, which were presented to many of the visitors at the show.

In the Garden:

A Primer on Spring's Transplanting

The coming weeks will be active painting weeks for most gardeners — a busy period of setting out perennial and annual bedding plants, evergreen shrubs and trees — yes, even some more bare root plants, if you hurry. It would seem wise, therefore, to review the transplanting rules.

Since bedding plants are sure to be one of the most popular items in the trade let's start with them. Every effort should be made to get them in the ground soon after they are removed from the nursery flat. Never let them sit overnight and risk drying or wilting. If delay is inevitable, leave them in shade and keep them moist.

Don't transplant young bedders to sunny beds in the middle of a hot day. They may bounce back from a good wilting, but they will be slowed down. Provide shade — from burlap, from a shingle or some other screen when planting in the sun. Always firm the plants and water them in immediately.

Shrubs from nursery containers are relatively safe from harm, but roots nonetheless get broken occasionally so always prune off damaged roots. If a great deal of root should somehow be damaged, prune back the top, too, so that it won't draw water too fast from the remaining roots.

Your nurseryman will slit the containers around shrubs and trees to make their removal easy. Be sure to complete the transplating job as soon after this as possible because a can thus slit will not hold water well and the root ball may dry out. Try not to disturb the soil around the root when removing from the can.

Bare root stock should be handled carefully to prevent any drying out of the roots. Plant them as soon as you are home from the nursery or "heel" them in in moist ground. Late in the bare root season as this, however, speed is the all important need, for the plants are about to stir themselves to life.

The greatest sin in transplanting shrubs and especially trees is in the failure to dig an adequate planting hole. Nurserymen are adamant on this point, claim that puny planting holes more than anything else inhibit the vigor of a tree or shrub. Give roots plenty of room to spread out

'The Thurber Carnival' Was Nothing but Bellylaughs from Curtain to Curtain

Against a musical background that sounded like something one would expect to hear in one of 52nd Street's smokier bistros, "The Thurber Carnival" road company wowed 'em at Stanford Memorial Auditorium last Thursday night.

The company is composed of only eight persons, but this skilled group of experienced troupers managed to cast themselves with excellent authenticity into the roles which Thurber invented in his "Carnival" book, published so many years ago.

Those familiar with his cartoons could start chuckling the moment the curtain went up, as the first "word dance" recitation of familiar and biting captions was given by members of the cast. And they could keep it up until the final curtain.

Though the cast nominally was headed by Arthur Treacher and Imogene Coca, other members of the company gave equal performances and should get equal praise.

King Donovan, who acted the part of Thurber himself in narrating "The Night the Bed Fell" and as protoganist in "File and Forget" managed to make any physical differences between himself and the actual James Thurber as he appeared in life seem insignificant, the stories were the thing.

Donovan also inherited the jobs of being the "He" in "The Unicorn in the Garden," Grant in "If Grant Had Been Drinking at Appomattox," one of the Drunks in "Gentleman Shoppers," the hero in "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" and Preble in "Mr. Preble Gets Rid of His Wife."

Miss Coca and Treacher were the only ones on stage for two of the narrated "Fables of Our Time": "The Little Girl and the Wolf" and "The Clothes Moth and the Luna Moth." Their pantomime was wonderful.

High point of Miss Coca's performance was in her performance as the Pet Councillor — in this case a television commentator — narrating the texts which accompanied Thurbers' unforgettable drawings in his "Pet Department."

Janis Hansen didn't have too many speaking parts but the ones she had were dillies, such as that of the slightly kookie femme fatale in "Mr. Preble."

There were the others, too, all deserving praise in preserving the spirit as well as the wording of Thurber's sketches and cartoons: Treacher, a wonderful pantomimist in "The Clothes Moth," a floorwalker in "Gentleman Shoppers," and the wolf in the familiar fable.

Also, Elaine Swann, Gigi Durston, Vince Harding and Walter Klavun did right handsomely by the audience; rather than go over their performances here, we'll just remember them, with chuckles, as we go over the program (we're going to save our copy so we'll recall the fun more easily in the future).

Notes:

Those who are afraid that Thurber, as a whimsicalist of another generation might be going out of date, ought to be reassured: There were a goodly number of students in the audience in spite of the fact that Thurber's not as deliciously new as he was to people a generation ago. Everybody has to discover Thurber for himself, apparently.

Palo Alto audiences have the worst manners of any audiences of which we know. The curtain was held for about 10 minutes and tardy arrivals kept stumbling in over the feet of those already seated for another 10 minutes beyond that.

VICTORIAN BOX

The wonderful fragrance of Victorian Box will be filling California gardens during the coming weeks and gardeners who appreciate some heady perfume of a spring night would do well to plant it. A highly useful shrub, Victorian Box can be grown either as a shrub or as a small tree. It is extremely fast growing and when happily situated, will put on about four feet of growth each year. Pruning keeps it nicely compact to form a dense screen with deep green leaves undulating on the edges.

Sections Listed:

'Alumnae' Unit Seeking Name

Rapidly expanding membership, steady addition of new sections and the emergence of the club as a force in the community has led members of the Menlo - Atherton Newcomers Alumnae to search for a name more explanatory of its function — and one that trips more lightly on the tongue.

Contenders for the prize that will be awarded the winning name are asked to submit their entries to Mrs. William Friedrich, DA 1-4147 before April 15. So far husbands of members have come up with the most acceptable suggestions, an indication of their enthusiasm for the club's activities and motivations.

NEW SECTIONS

The two newest sections added are Fun and Funds and Beaux Arts. The nucleus forming Fun and Funds is searching for a need in the community to which they can lend their not inconsiderable talents for fund raising and support. Beaux Arts, a husband and wife group interested in the manual arts, will back the fund-raisers by supplying the necessary backdrops and props for benefits.

New members added to the roster of the Newcomers Alumnae at a coffee held in February are Mrs. Lewis Callison, Mrs. Dean Connaway, Mrs. Laverne Foster, Mrs. Guy Hafer, Mrs. Oscar Hoffman, Mrs. A. William Koors, Mrs. Milton Green, Mrs. Walter Nelson Jr., Mrs. T. E. Palmer, Mrs. Gordon Pipe and Mrs. Jerry Zones.

Section meetings for March will include:

'THE SIERRA'

Book Review section, Wednesday, March 14, at 1 p.m. Hostess will be Mrs. George Norton, 2010 Liberty Park, Menlo Park. Mrs. Byron Staffeld will review "The Sierra" by W. Storr Lee. Those wishing to attend should contact Mrs. George Ogle, DA 1-2645.

Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Alumnae board meeting will be held on March 14 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Wayne Prim, 49 Marianne Lane, Atherton.

Fun and Fund section will be held on March 15 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Walter Leclerc, 3815 Alameda de las Pulgas, Menlo Park. A speaker from a local charitable organization will be featured and members are asked to save rummage for a slated fund-raising sale.

BRIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Bridge will be held on March 16 at 8 p.m. The hostess is Mrs. Lewis Southern, 520 St. Francis Way, Menlo Park. Mrs. James Haight, chairman, announces that refreshments will be served and that reservations should be made by March 13.

DANCING

Mr. and Mrs. Social will be presented at Alpine Hills Tennis and Swimming Club on March 17 at 9 p.m. Mrs. George Norton, DA 2-2854 ,is contact for those wishing to attend.

Evening Bridge will meet on March 20 at 7:45 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leclerc. Reservations should be made with the hostess by March 18.

Duplicate Bridge section will meet on March 19 at 12 noon. Mrs. Claire Olds is hostess and requests that members phone if they plan to attend.

HI-FI

Beaux Arts will meet on March 23 at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. Charles Campbell, 260 Waverly ,Menlo Park. Reservations for the potluck supper with Hi - Fi musical program should be made with the chairman, Mrs. Greg Hines, DA 5-1655 by March 15.

ROARING TWENTIES . . . . . is the theme chosen by the Woodside PTA for the parent faculty party planned as a get-acquainted dinner dance on March 3 in the multi-purpose room at the high school. Entertainment planned will include a 15-piece orchestra for dancing, precision dancing as instructed by Imogene Woodruff, and a skit in which parents will impersonate celebrities of the 1920's era.

Clark Launches Benefit

Spring will come to Country House at Ladera this year with an appealing tie-in promotion to benefit the handicapped children who are the special interest of the membership who make up the auxiliaries to Children's Health Council of the Peninsula.

A special promotional feature — including everything from Easter decorations to art-in-action, from fashion shows to egg-counting contests — will be launched by the Esther B. Clark Auxiliary at CHC's Ladera lunchroom.

Beginning Wednesday, April 11, the special events will continue through Wednesday, April 18.

Unusual gifts made by auxiliary members will be for sale in a special Easter salon adjacent to the lunchroom.

Fashion shows held every day will be of interest to smallfry, teen-agers and adulas.

Clark Auxiliary members plan to decorate the entire Ladera shopping area, as well as the lunchroom, with symbols of the spring season. Huge containers of small Easter eggs will be placed at various points, and visitors to the area will be encouraged to enter the egg-counting contest, with prizes awarded to the best guessers.

Gift shop and lunchroom will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. during the special festivities, except Saturday, April 14, when they will close at 1 p.m. Coffee and donuts will be served in the morning; buffet lunch will be available at two sittings, and tea and light refreshments will be served in the afternoon.

Although children will be welcome throughout the week, their special day will be Monday, April 16, when the lunch, the fashion show, the entertainment, and the entire program will be arranged for their pleasure.

Mrs. Edwin Thompson, Clark Auxiliary vice president, is overall chairman of the "Spring Comes to Country House" week.

Country House is staffed by the five senior auxiliaries to the Children's Health Council, with all profits going to the Council.

Joyce Carlson Honored

Miss Joyce Carlson of Atherton was chosen to be an official hostess at Linfield College, Oregon, for a recent speech competition in which 1800 high school and college pupils took part.

A graduate of Castilleja School, Joyce was also hostess for the guest speaker who is taking part in Christian Emphasis Week being held this week at Linfield.

JOYCE CARLSON

Miss Carlson was recently voted as the outstanding pledge for 1961 in her chapter of Sigma Kappa Phi and is the newly elected treasurer of the sorority. Additionally, she is a member of the yearbok staff and is a member of the Linfield Ski Club.

As a sophomore, Joyce is majoring in fashions and retailing and plans to study in Europe this summer.

Nativity Parish:

Mardi Gras Set For March 3

"Mardi Gras" festivities are being anticipated by the Nativity Guild and Men's Club of Church of the Nativity when the two groups present their fifth annual spring dance on Saturday, March 3.

Co-hosting the affair will be Mrs. John J. Gunn and Dominic P. Ryan of Menlo Park.

The dinner dance will benefit the Presentation Education Fund which educates the Sisters of the Presentation Order at their Novitiate in Los Gatos and the Juniorate in San Francisco. The Presentation Sisters are presently on the staff at Nativity School. Named as chairman of the fund drive is Mrs. Pauline Branagan.

Coordinating chairman for the pre-dance parties is Mrs. Richard L. Speed, assisted by Joseph E. Beh, both of Atherton. Receiving at their homes in Atherton will be Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Calcaterra, Mr. and Mrs. Francis McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. James Craft, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Majeski, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Genevro, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Rogers, Mr and Mrs. John McManus and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ryan in Menlo Park.

Committee members in charge of decor are Mrs. Daniel A Deasy, Mrs. Francis E. Diggs, Mrs. Frank C. Peavy, Mrs. Robert Schmelze, Mrs. Waldo Sciarini, and Mrs. Helen Baeford.

Buffet supper will be served at 9:15 p.m. and dancing will continue until 1:30 a.m., with music provided by "Mr. Dee and His Three."

Chairman in charge of tickets is Mrs. James Buckingham and reservations will be accepted through Feb. 23 by the reservations chairman Mrs. Sidney Cantwell.

NEW NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith Jr., formerly of Salt Lake City are now living at a new address in Menlo Park.

Ball Date Chosen

Sponsors of the Peninsula Ball hald their first meeting of the 1962 season at the home of Mrs. Frederick M. Sherman, their newly appointed chairman, to discuss the plans for the second Peninsula deb party. They have chosen Friday, Dec. 21 as the date, and it will again be held at the Palo Alto Hills Country Club.

Additional sponsors will be announced at the March meeting, and together with the present sponsors will be known as the Peninsula Ball Committee. They will plan and conduct the cotillion which will again benefit the Family Service Association.

Publicity chairman will be announced shortly. Last year's sponsors who will continue to serve are Mrs. Winston C. Black, Mrs. John Brooke, Mrs. Philip FitzGerald, Mrs. Howard Frame, Mrs. Edward M. Hamilton, Mrs. Henry McIntyre, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Fredric Murphy, Mrs. Donald Ross and Mrs. Sherman.

Elliott-Hickey Nuptials

Now residing in San Diego after a wedding trip which took them to Carmel are Lt. and Mrs. Edward Hickey (she is the former Betty Jean Elliott).

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, James Elliott, chose a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a chapel train, high neckline and beaded bodice. Her satin pill box hat, also beaded, secured a fingertip veil. Betty Jean carried a bouquet of roses surrounding a white orchid.

The bride is a graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School. A member of Rainbow for Girls Menlo Park Chapter 151, she served the group as worthy adviser. She is the daughter of Mrs. Edna Elliott.

Matron of honor for Betty Jean was Mrs. Gerald J. McCutchen and the bridesmoids were Susan Arnold, Cheryl Dirks and Barbara Lopez. The attendants wore ruby red slipper satin gowns with ruby red pill box hats trimmed in veiling. Each carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hickey of Washington, D.C., is a graduate of Holy Cross. He has one brother, Kenneth Hickey.

Mrs. Elliott greeted reception guests who gathered at Moffett Field Officers Club for a reception honoring the newlyweds, in a beige lace over satin sheath. Mrs. Hickey chose a pastel blue chiffon sheath for her son's wedding.

Before leaving the reception Betty Jean changed to a brown suit with which she wore a printed blouse and orange accessories.

M-A Newcomers:

Club Presents Noted Designer

Monthly luncheon of the Menlo - Atherton Newcomers Club will take place Wednesday, March 7, at the Peninsula Golf and Country Club, San Mateo.

Social hour will begin at noon and lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Larry Mattman, reservations chairman.

"Why A Decorator?" is the interest-provoking title of the talk to be given by Eleanor M. Forbes, AID, director of the interior design department of Gump's, San Francisco.

Miss Forbes is a member of the American Institute of Decorators, San Francisco Women Artists and the San Francisco Fashion Group — and a former resident of Menlo Park.

She is one of the West's most successful woman designers and has gained national recognition for her designs in furniture, rugs, accessories and interiors. Miss Forbes has designed for furniture manufacturers with national distribution, including rattan. She has had her furniture shown in the San Francisco museums, the Denver museum, and the Modern museum in New York.

Her room settings have been included in a number of AID shows and she has been represented in each of the San Francisco museum's "Tour de Decors" exhibits. Eleanor Forbes has served on juries for a number of decorative arts, pottery and weaving shows in San Francisco as well as in Sacramento at the State Fair, and has judged at a national design competition for the Leather Group in New York.

Miss Forbes' furniture designs are often a subtle interpretation of the Oriental form, emphasizing simplicity and grace.

Director Lauds Aides

"If the volunteer should stop, it is certain that the work of the Children's Health Council would be drastically curtailed."

These were the words chosen by Mrs. James Brainerd, executive director of CHC, during her tribute to the volunteers who make the five senior auxiliaries to the health council. Her remarks were made at the second annual all-auxiliary luncheon held this year at Palo Alto Hills Golf and Country Club.

SERVICES

Among volunteer services mentioned were staffing of the nursery school, driving children to the day school ,supervising playgrounds, performing clerical duties as well as serving as waitresses and kitchen helpers at Country House, clerks at the Bargan Box and its new annex, "Mulberry Lane," where antiques and furniture are sold. Volunters also collect items for highly successful Estate Sales and handcraft items sold at such fundraisers as the Gift-O-Rama.

Announcements made at the meeting included setting the date, Aug. 19, for Summer Symphony III which will again be conducted by Arthur Fiedler at Stanford's Frost Ampitheater.

Mrs. I. R. Jarman, CHC board member, announced that Country House at Ladera, luncheroom and gift shop, has shown a profit for its first four and a half months of operation. Further announcement was made that Country House will handle special events such as teas, wedding receptions and group luncheons.

SPRING PLANS

Plans are being made for "Spring Comes to Country House," the 10 days preceding Easter, when special daily events will be featured.

Co-chairmen of the benefit "Summer Symphony III" will be Mrs. Hart Tantau and Mrs. Leland Doan of Atherton. Serving as symphony chairmen for the auxiliary will be Mrs. Wayne Hinthorn, Mrs. Frank H. Roberts, Mrs. C. D. Williams, Mrs. Austin Hathaway, Mrs. Richard B. Taylor and Mrs. Sidney Ackerman.

This year CHC auxiliary raised $71,000 of the $204,000 operating budget, acoerding to Mrs. Tantau.

A special feature of t he luncheon was a fashion show of clothes and accessories on sale at the Middlefield Road "Bargain Box."

Pratt-McCarl Nuptials

Jacquelyn Jean Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald C. Pratt of Menlo Park, became the bride of Charles Scott McCarl in a recent ceremony conducted at Church of the Nativity.

Preceded down the aisle by five attendants, Jacquelyn wore a gown of heavy satin fashioned in empire style with a chapel train. The front panel was trimmed in seed pearls. A pearl crown secured her shoulder length veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and white rosebuds.

Maid of honor for Jacquelyn was Maribeth Spelman and her matron of honor was Mrs. Alex Vereschagin. Bridesmaids were Bonnie McCarl, Joanne Grant and Gwen Patrick. Identically dressed in royal blue satin frocks designed with scoop necklines and sheath skirts, the attendants wore royal blue veiled headpieces and carried yellow carnations.

BEST MAN

Chuck, as the bridegroom is known, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott McCarl of Palo Alto. His brother-in-law, Alex Vereschagin, was his best man and the ushers were Donald Jacobs, John Keese, Al Tisch and Ronald Pratt.

Gladiolus and chrysanthemums decorated both Nativity Church and the Marie Antoinette, where the reception was held. Mrs. Pratt greeted her guests in an acqua satin sheath with which she wore complementary accessories. Mrs. McCarl chose a royal blue satin sheath for her son's wedding.

WEDDING TRIP

Before the young couple left for a Carmel honeymoon, Jacquelyn changed to a gold suit with which she wore a gold jacket and gold flowered hat. The McCarls will live in San Carlos.

Jacquelyn attended Convent of Sacred Heart, Menlo-Atherton High School and College of Notre Dame. She is now employed at Stanford University in the comptroller's department. Chuck graduated from San Jose State College and served in Korea for two years with the U.S. Army Finance Corp. He is presently a trainee for the Simmons Mattress Co. in San Francisco.

DG's Mark Founding

Eighty-ninth anniversary of Delta Gamma fraternity will be celebrated during the month of March. Local Palo Alto Alumnae Chapter of Delta Gamma will honor Founder's Day at a luncheon on Saturday, March 3.

The affair will be held at the Country House at Ladera Shopping Center and festivities will begin at 12 noon.

Mrs. Ronald Ragno, president of the local chapter, will be mistress of ceremonies for the afternoon. A candlelighting ceremony will commemorate the founding of Delta Gamma in 1873. Mrs. Lawrence Baker will read the roll call of the 90 collegiate chapters. Installation of new officers for the local alumnae chapter will also take place.

All Delta Gammas wishing to attend and who have not been contacted by telephone are urged to contact Mrs. H. H. Howland Jr. of Menlo Park for reservations.

Hillview Presents Talent

Hillview School PTA is presenting "An Evening of Live TV" on Saturday, March 10, at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

The show, featuring talented teachers and peerless parents, will consist of acts which "might" be take-offs of actual television programs. Mrs. Everett Murphy, chairman of the fundraising event, has previewed several of the skits and reports that the following should be checked on your viewing guide:

"Our Liberace Show," "Taano, the Magician," and "Buntley-Hinckley Late News."

Teachers and parents from all grade levels are participating in this evening of family fun. The show will be this year's main fundraising effort, proceeds going to the school library.

Tickets go on sale March 1 at the school and can also be obtained at the door on show night, adults, $1.50, and children, 50 cents.

Easter Theme Planned

Easter decorations will be the feature of the day when the Christian Women's Club of Palo Alto meets for lunch on Thursday, March 8, at 12:30 p.m., at the Elks Club, 4249 El Camino Real, Palo Alto.

Decorating ideas for Easter will be presented by Mrs. Ray Watson. Mrs. Robert Munger of Berkeley will be the guest speaker. Her husband is the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church there.

A clever and humorous skit, publicizing a northern California area Conferette of the Christian Women's Club, will be presented by Mrs. Ray Judnich and Mrs. Niles Herron.

The Conferette will be held at the Lamplighter Lodge in Sunnyvale on Friday, April 6, and Saturday, April 7. A banquet for husbands and wives on Saturday night, April 7, at the St. Claire Hotel in San Jose will conclude the Conferette.

All women are cordially invited to attend the March 8 luncheon meeting. For reservations, call Mrs. Niles Herron, Mountain View, 967-8804.

Sorority Holds Social

Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a spaghetti supper for husbands and other guests Wednesday at the Menlo Park home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hegelheimer.

The social replaced the second business meeting of the month. Special guests were inactive members, Mrs. Esther Larson and Mrs. Paul Elliott of Cupertino, their families, and a sorority member from southern California, Mrs. William Davis and Mr. Davis, now living in Redwod City.

Chapter members will be guests of Mrs. Davis on Wednesday, March 7, for the regular meeting.

President Mrs. Robert Wilson has announced that anyone interested in attending the Northern Peninsula Inter-City Council luncheon and fashion show April 7, at Moore's Prime Rib Kart in Belmont, may order tickets at $3 each by sending a check to Beta Sigma Phi, 1056 Del Norte Ave., Menlo Park. Tickets will be forwarded. Beta Psi is chairman-chapter for the affair which will benefit cystic fibrosis research.

The Visiting Nursing Association is a non-profit agency of the United Bay Area Crusade, whose purpose is to assist physicians in caring for their patients at home.

WALTER SCHRECK AND VICTORIA KENDRICK

Kendrick-Schreck Betrothal

Announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Victoria, to Walter Robert Schreck of Menlo Park, Mr. and Mrs. Jay E. Kendrick revealed the young couple plan to be married June 12, the anniversary of their own wedding.

The prospective bridegroom will graduate from the University of Oregon Medical School a few days prior to the wedding as will his bride-elect who will take her degree from Portland State College.

Walter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Schreck of Menlo Park, is a graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School and was affiliated with Sigma Nu fraternity while an undergraduate at the Oregon university. Victoria was a Delta Gamma during prior attendance at University of Oregon.

The couple's betrothal was revealed at a recent party at the Schreck home and later at a second affair at the Portland home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Bacon.

NEW NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schoenberger, recent arrivals from Massachusetts, are now settled at an Atherton address. The couple has one son and two daughters.

PAINTING . . .

Adaptable and Flexible:

Recipes Mirror Artistic Approach to Culinary Art

Transferring a family from one community to another, at the dictates of the company for which the husband works, is becoming the pattern for more and more families.

Bridging the gap while the family gets settled and makes new friends is largely the responsibility of the wife and mother. It's a responsibility for which Mrs. Newton Turney has talent. And she has had a great deal of practice. She and her husband and their two daughters have lived in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Texas, Florida and are now estiblished in California.

During these moves she has observed that many women are depressed and unhappy when they are moved away from familiar surroundings. As president of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Club she has thoroughly enjoyed helping women find their own niche in Menlo Park and Atherton.

She feels that her own family's moves have benefitted their daughters. "While they were sometimes unhappy about leaving schools and friends," she explains, "they learned early to be adaptable and flexible and to avoid making comparisons."

ART BACKGROUND

An art major at Florida State during her college years and later a model and fashion sketch artist, Stella Turney also taught art at the junior high school level in Jacksonville, before her marriage. These interests and a genuine concern for the community in which she lives have led her into many activities. Besides a continuing interest in art, Mrs. Turney assumed the Newcomers presidency, is a tea group volunteer for the Stanford Convalescent Home, participates in the escort service at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital as a Pink Lady and with her husband is a member of both Continentals and Starlighters, dinner dance groups.

One of the more recent sections developed for Newcomers and their families is the brainchild of Mrs. Turney. Long concerned with the plight of college-age sons and daughters of recently transferred families when they returned home for the holidays, she and other Newcomer members organized a series of parties for the younger set. Attendance has grown steadily at the affairs — testimony to their success.

The Turneys find their entertaining at home falls into two categories — large cocktail parties for special occasions like the one they gave to announce the engagement of their daughter Patricia to David Ogle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ogle, who are also fairly recent arrivals in the area, and small dinner parties at which they gather six or eight couples. As Mrs. Turney describes herself as an experimental cook, the food is always out of the ordinary and according to her taste panel family "delicious." The other ingredient of their successful parties is the Turneys' ability to make a guest feel entertaining as well as entertained.

A few of Mrs. Turney's favorite recipes are reprinted below:

DELIAS DELIGHT
1 cup red table wine
3 tsp. soy sauce
1 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
2 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. garlic powder

Combine ingredients and pour over rib roast. Marinate two hours, turning twice. Cook roast, pouring sauce over the last half hour—baste. Serve as jus gravy over baked potatoes.

* * *

CHICKEN CELESTE

Dredge with salt and flour four large chicken breasts. Brown in butter lightly.
Add —
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup sherry wine
½ tsp. accent
Cover skillet and simmer until tender. Remove chicken to warm platter and add:
1 cup mayonnaise to juices in skillet
Blend rapidly over very low heat. Thin with a little more wine if too thick.
Sprinkle 2 tbs. parsley and serve over fluffy brown rice.

* * *

POPPY SEED DRESSING

Serve with fresh peach or pear salad. Makes one quart.
⅔ cup honey
1 tsp. salt
⅔ cup vinegar
5 tbs. prepared mustard
5 tbs. poppy seed
2½ cups salad oil
Beat with rotary beater until thoroughly mixed. Keep in refrigerator.

MARGARET'S PIE

10 square saltines rolled very fine
½ cup broken pecans
4 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. baking bowder
Whip egg whites until stiff. Fold in spgar, saltines, nut meats, and baking powder. Bakes in greased pie plate for 35 minutes. Just before serving spread with sweetene whipped cream.

Bruce Jessup Honored

Portola Valley PTA life membership has been awarded to Dr. Bruce Jessup of Portola Valley for outstanding service to children and youth in the public health field.

Upon completing his studies in pediatrics at the Stanford University Medical School, Dr. Jessup joined the staff at the Palo Alto Clinic. Later he specialized in child rehabilitation at the Institute of New York University and again at Stanford's School of Medicine. He has devoted a great deal of his time to the Children's Health Council and because of his broad insight and willingness to do something beyond the ordinary for children, he was chosen by Stanford Medical School to head a research project, financed by the Rosenburg Foundation in the area of child health Research resulted in the Santa Clara County Survey which showed that much more work is needed in child welfare, specially for children of migrant farm workers. Dr. Jessup is presently employed by the California State Health Department and is now in Washington, D.C., working on a bill for a national rural health program. He has stated that he believes the PTA to be the greatest force for the welfare of children.

The Portola PTA presentation to Dr. Jessup was made at a Founder's Day Tea on Feb. 28.

Coffee Hour Staged

Parents of sophomores at Menlo-Atherton High School are invited to attend a coffee hour at 9 a.m. Tuesday, March 6, in J building.

On the agenda is an introduction of two American Field Service students, John Black of Menlo Park, who spent last summer in Turkey, and Susan Rhodes of England, now a student at Menlo-Atherton High School.

Mrs. Clay Miller of Atherton, chairman of the M-A chapter of the AFS, will describe the activities of the AFS — of particular interest to parents of sophomores since it is from this class that participants will be chosen next fall.

Malcolm Taylor, principal of M-A, and James Coffis, dean of boys, will lead a discussion of counseling, general information on school clubs and activities for sophomores, driver education, Junior Statesmen club and the Golden Key Society.

Mrs. Murray Hunt, parent education chairman, will introduce the sophomore class sponsor, Mrs. Lyman Wear, who will in turn introduce class co-sponsors Mrs. William Thiel, Mrs. Robert Starkweather, Mrs. W. N. Greenham and Mrs. Leland Burrill. Coffee will be served after the meeting.

March 12:

Women's Clubs Convene Jointly

Golden Gate District, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo counties, of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, will hold their March meeting on Monday, March 12, 9:30 a.m., at the Burlingame Woman's Club, 241 Park Road, Burlingame.

Mrs. Hax H. Bailey, president of Burlingame Woman's Club, hostesses for the meeting, will welcome all present, with response by Mrs. G. Frederick Norman, who will emphasize the district theme, "Accent on Achievement."

Mrs. William B. Newman, district program chairman, has arranged a "Conservation Month" theme and will present a colored film, "An Island in Time," telling the Point Reyes story.

Also, to emphasize the program's theme, Mrs. E. J. Hazelton, president of California Federation of Women's Clubs, urges special observance of "Plant A Tree Week," March 4 through March 11, by contributing to the project, "Penny Pines."

Following the program, Mrs. Ray Jones, district chairman, home crafts, will present a special fashion show of the District's "Vogue Sewing Contest," with twelve clubs and five sponsored high schools competing. The winner will compete at the sewing contest at the State Convention of California Federation of Women's Clubs convening in San Diego May 7 to May 10.

Mrs. Louis Pipkin, 1532 Drake Ave., Burlingame, DI 3-6837, is in charge of reservations.

Dance Group Starts New Quarter

Redwood City Cooperative Dance Group, under the direction of Lorle Kranzler is starting a new session on Wednesday, March 7. The group has modern dance classes for preschool children through adults. Openings are available in all classes.

Classes are $1.25 for children and $1.50 for adults for each lesson. A dance session consists of twelve lessons.

Classes meet at the Highlands Community Club at 1665 Fernside, Redwood City.

For further information, call Mrs. William Hammond, EM 9-5357.

St. Raymond's Announces Winners

Robert Nitrio and Susan Seidelman, eighth grade students at St. Raymond's School, were winners in a speech contest which was a special event during last week's meeting of St. Raymond's Mothers Club.

Other contestants were Patricia Lyon, Ann D'Arcy, Roy Folger and Joseph Jamello. Moderator was Father Custodio from Serra High School in San Mate.

Robert and Susan will participate in a final contest on April 8 to be held at All Souls School in South San Francisco. They will compete against the best speakers from St. Gregory's School, San Mateo, and Corpus Christi School, Piedmont, which are instructed by the Sisters of Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Wedgwood Talk Set Sunday

Olivia Lenhart, whose Wedgwood collection is being exhibited at the Stanford University Museum, will on Sunday March 4, give an illustrated lecture with colored slides on the story of antique Wedgwood.

The pictures were taken at the British Museum in London and in museums throughout the United States by the Atherton collector.

The public is invited to bring pieces of Wedgwood for discussion and dating.

Gallery talks will be given each Tuesday through the remainder of the exhibit (through March 15).

Mormon Temple:

Karen Lindsay Becomes Bride

On their return this week from a wedding trip which took them to Phoenix, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edwin Muir (he is assistant city manager there) will establish residence in Sunnyvale.

The couple was married in the Salt Lake Temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on Monday of last week. After the marriage, the couple returned to the Peninsula where they greeted about 400 guests at the Lindsays' Atherton home.

The bride, the former Karen Lindsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude T. Lindsay of Atherton, chose a floor length sheath of white Italian silk satin for her wedding attire. The dress was fashioned with a high Sabrina neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and re-embroidered lace on bodice and skirt. A pill box of matching silk satin embroidered with pearls held Karen's veil of silk illusion lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Walter, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Muir of Salt Lake City, attended the University of Utah and received a master's degree from Cornell University. He served in the Central Intelligence Corps in Vienna and fulfilled a mission for the LDA church in Germany. He has two brothers, Leonard Muir and Emery A. Rose, and a sister, Mrs. Gale Jacobsen.

Today at Little House, Mrs. Gladys Beesley will show her color slides of Disneyland at Christmas time and of the Pasadena Rose Parade.

Following her talk, slides taken at the World's Fair site in Seattle will be shown.

The program will begin at 1:45 p.m. promptly.

Prayer Observance Meet Set

United Church Women of the Palo Alto-Menlo Park Council will hold a "World Day of Prayer" on Friday, March 9, at 2 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Palo Alto.

Reverend William Wysham, D.D. and West Coast representative of the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature, will be the speaker.

The evening meeting will take place at Christ Church Episcopal in Portola Valley at 8 p.m. with Reverend H. R. Brunbaum as the guest speaker.

Bethany Sets Potluck, Square Dance

Friday, March 2, is the date set for the Bethany Parent-Teacher League potluck dinner and square dance.

Proceeds from the free will offering will go toward the purchase of a stereo record player for the school. The dinner and dance will be held in the parish hall of Bethany Lutheran Church. Henry Aschbrenner, teacher at the school, will call the square dances.

Regular monthly meeting of the Bethany Parent-Teacher League will still be held Monday, March 12.

Parents and congregation are welcome.

Crystal Springs School:

Woodside Homes Get Top Billing

Five Mid-Peninsula estates will be the star attractions of the "Woodside in the Spring" house and garden tour being given April 11 by the Mothers' Club of Crystal Springs School for Girls, it was announced today by benefit tour chairman Mrs. John A. Bunting.

The Woodside estates are Mrs. W. P. Roth's famous "Why Worry Farm" — never before opened to the public and the location of Mrs. Roth's world-renowned, award winning horses; the Pennsylvania - Dutch home and farm or Mrs. Roth's daughter, Mrs. James Coonan, where tea will be served; the magnificent Mexican some of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Collins, noted for its old church doors and original paintings; the dramatic contemporary home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lennart, with its many "built-in" features and wide-screen projection room, and the stunning home of Mr. and Mrs. George I. Long, noted for its imaginative use of natural woods and stones.

Woodside Village Church:

Parish Mardi Gras To Select Royalty

A special prize from a former king and queen will be featured at tomorrow night's seventn annual Parish Mardi Gras of the Woodside Village Church.

The gala event at the Alpine Hills Swimming and Tennis Club will be preceded by dinner parties at the homes of six church members. The costume ball — this year highlighted by a Twist contest — will begin at 8 o'clock. A grand march, presentation of costume prizes, crowning of the Mardi Gras king and queen, and a midnight snack will round out the evening.

Prizes will be awarded for costumes judged the most original, beautiful, humorous, and gruesome.

Mardi Gras co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. C. Stuart McPherson of Woodside will host one of the pre-ball dinner parties. Other hosts and hostesses include the Robert Brisachers of Atherton, the Noble Hancocks of Portola Valley, the William Mudds of Menlo Park, and the Sam Fitzpatricks and Jules Aldiges, both of Woodside.

Opera Guild Announces Dinner Dance

Saturday, May 19, is the date chosen by West Bay Opera Guild members for their dinner-dance, Opera Hi Jinks, Opus One.

The party, to be held at the Palo Alto Hills Golf and Country Club, will benefit the opera group's work center building fund.

Mrs. Jean M. Goity, Ladera, and Mrs. Jack Lampton have been named co-chairmen.

NEW IN ATHERTON

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Duncan with their three children have recently moved from San Carlos to a new Atherton address.

MP Women's Club:

Eight Coeds Vie in Contest

Eight students from Menlo-Atherton High School have entered the General Federation of Women's Clubs Vogue Sewing Contest.

Modeling their outfits at the Menlo Park Women's Club luncheon meeting on Thursday, March 8, will be Mary Ann McClure, Arlene Kohlhardt, Marion Reed, Joan Foster, Judy Durbin, Barbara Dittrich, Donna Perez and Madelyn Matas.

Students are under the leadership of Mrs. Janet Forbes, head of M-A's sewing department, and Mrs. Robert Gardener, a teacher at Menlo-Atherton.

Participating in the fashion showing will be Kay Keenan, commentating on student-created fashions.

Serving as judges are Mrs. Blanche I. Harmes, Menlo-Atherton adult education sewing department; Mrs. Judy Sargent, representative from Stevens in Menlo Park, and Mrs. James G. Allen, seamstress and member of the Menlo Park Women's Club.

First place winner will receive $10 from the Menlo Park Women's Club, plus $5 from Golden Gate District, and will go on to enter the district competition later in March.

Second place winner will receive a $7.50 merchandise order from a local store and a $5 merchandise order will be awarded third place winner.

Mrs. W. T. Luscombe of the Menlo Park Women's Club is contest chairman.

Mrs. George Ackerman is hostess for the luncheon. Serving with her are Mrs. L. H. Nichols, Mrs. W. T. Luscombe, Mrs. Gwen Becker, Mrs. A. T. Terrill, Mrs. John Brickley, Stella Ely and Mrs. Howard Johnston.

Garden section of the club will meet at the home of Mrs. R. T. Starr on March 13 at 12:30.

Literary section will meet at Mrs. Ward Dwight's home on March 20 at 12:30 p.m.

PEO Plans Program March 2

Peninsula PEO Reciprocity meeting will be held on March 2 with members gathering for a 12 o'clock luncheon.

Locale for the meeting will be held at the Woodside Road Community Methodist Church at Woodside Road and Alameda.

Chapter T will be in charge of the program. Dr. Helen Pryor will present a program concerning the new Mid-Peninsula YWCA. A series of color slides for which Douglas Pledger is the commentator will be shown. Dr. Pryor will be assisted by Helen Flack, secretary of the Palo Alto YWCA.

Parents Club:

Rummage Sale To Build Priory School Library

Library Committee of the Woodside Priory School Parents Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hugh McCoy, has scheduled its first annual rummage sale for March 1 and 2.

Mrs. John Lundt who is in charge of the rummage sale, is assisted by Mrs. Charles Wade, Mrs. Richard West, Mrs. Frank Lanzone, Mrs. John O'Mara, Mrs. Peter Leth-nissen, Mrs. Richard Heyl, Mrs. Shirley Hebert, Mrs. Joseph Wynne Mrs. Richard Klokow, Mrs. Stephen Collins, Mrs. Hugh McCoy and R. Charles Wade.

John Lundt has offered his garage at 3401 El Camino Real in Palo Alto as the site of the sale.

All proceds from this rummage sale will go to the Library Fund of the Woodside Priory School and will be used for the maintenance of the library and the purchase of books and additional shelving.

The Library Committee of the Woodside Priory School Parents Club has been since its inception last September, a very active and highly successful committee consisting of 28 members: mothers and fathers of students as well as interested friends of the Priory.

Committee members have accepted all the tasks of running the library, as well as the responsibility of acquiring the necessary books for a rich fund of intellectual material.

Mrs. Hugh McCoy, chairman, has divided her committee into many subcommittees to accommodate the various aspects of library organization. She is assisted by Mrs. Thomas Conroy and Mrs. John Lundt, fund-raising; Mrs. Joseph Wynne, treasurer; Harry Kuchins, acquisitions; Mrs. Shirley Hebert, cataloging; Mrs. Charles Wade accessioning; Dr. Peter Beal, lettering, and Mrs. Edward Quirk, typing.

Each of these subcommittee chairman has a group of workers under him or her. Parents and friends of the Priory who have thus donated many hours and great effort are beginning to see the fruits of their labors.

Irish Theme Chosen

"Evening of Blarney" will be in store for those attending the Couples Club Quarterly of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church on Friday, March 9, at 8:45 p.m.

Entertainment and dinner will be the theme of Erin's Isle. There will be the wearin' o' the green (or orange) and dancing and singing in Fellowship Hall that night. Also, an informative travel film will be shown.

Couples' Club groups Alverson, Kukuk and Pawell are sponsoring the event.

Tickets are $1.75 each and may be obtained between services or from Couples' Club leaders. Marybelle Alverson may be called for tickets or information at DA 2-8419.

ORT Chapter Sets Fashions

Spring fasihons will be presented at the annual luncheon-fashion show of the Live Oak Chapter of Women's American ORT at the Stardust Motel in Los Altos on March 28.

The program will be presented by Mrs. G. E. Green, board member. "Into the High Sierra" will be her illustrated subject.

Peninsula Symphony:

Guilds to Meet March 6

Members of the Woodside and Menlo-Atherton Peninsula Symphony Guilds and their husbands, have been invited to hold their March 6 meeting at one of the evening rehearsals of the Peninsula Symphony Orchestra.

The success and great attendance of this year's concerts made it necessary to schedule an extra concert in the new Foothill College auditorium.

The Auxiliary will serve refreshments to the orchestra during its break. The concerts are Friday, March 9, at Notre Dame auditorium in Belmont, and Saturday, March 10, at San Mateo High School auditorium in San Mateo. Both concerts are at 8:30 p.m. They will play Prokofiev's Lieutenant Kije Suite, Dvorak's Symphony No. 2 and Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 5 (the Emperor Concerto). The soloist for both nights is Istvan Nadas.

Mrs. Frank Ruys in charman of the Woodside Guild and Mrs. John Richards of Atherton is chairman of the Menlo Atherton Guild. Mrs. George Marcopulos and Mrs. Clemens Reinking are in charge of hospitality and area women wishing to attend this meeting may do so by telephoning DA 1-4003 or DA 2-8571.
